THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR

LIMA, OHIO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1923

PRICE THREE CENTS

INCOME TAX FOR OHIO PROPOSED

Provided in Measure Introduced in Legislature

HITS SALARIES, DIVIDENDS

Bill Placing Levy on Gasoline Also Offered

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Taxes on incomes and on gasoline used to propel motor vehicles over the public highways, are proposed in measures before the state legislature. The income tax is a part of the program of the "uniform rule bloc" of the house of representatives and the gasoline tax bill is the result of cooperation of the highways committee of both houses in an effort to formulate a program of highway maintenance work. The gasoline tax bill provides for a tax of two cents per gallon and is designed to displace numerous other similar measures previously introduced.

The income tax measure, offered in the house by Representative Fouts, Republican, of Morgan-co, would require payment to the county of 2 per cent on income from property not otherwise taxed. The tax also would be levied on salaries and dividends and interest on stocks and bonds. Exemptions provided are $2,000 for married persons and $1,000 for those who are unmarried.

ASSESSMENT PLAN

Under the proposal the uniform rulers hope to collect taxes on much property which they declare now escapes taxation. Another proposal on the uniform rule program is contained in the bill of Representative Albright, Republican, of Miami-co, which would abolish township and ward assessors and make the county the taxing unit by creation of a county assessment board composed of the auditor, prosecutor and probate judge.

The gasoline tax, proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Brown, Republican, of Champaign-co, is designed primarily to furnish funds for the putting in passable condition of main market and inter-county road not yet taken over and improved by the state. The work on these highways would be conducted by the state department of highways. Cities and counties also would receive a portion of the proceeds of the tax to maintain streets and roads directly under their care.

MONTHLY REPORT

Manufacturers and importers of gasoline would pay the tax to the secretary of state, making monthly reports on the number of gallons sold.

Since the tax would be charged only on gasoline used in the operation of motor vehicles on the highways, persons who used the fuel for other purposes, would make affidavit to the secretary of state showing the number of gallons used for stationary engines, tractors, motor boats and aircraft and refund would be made.

A provision apparently intended to prevent use of the tax funds for high-priced roads was contained in the measure. It would prevent the expenditure of more than $1,000 in any one mile of inter-county or market road in any one year.

The division of the funds would be made on the basis of 20 per cent to cities, 20 per cent to counties and 60 per cent to the state.

The state's portion of the money would be split into two shares, one of two-thirds, to be used exclusively in graveling and otherwise bettering the market and inter-county roads and the other one-third to be used in resurfacing and widening roads already taken over and improved by the state.

Neither the house nor senate was in session today, both having adjourned over the week-end in order that their finance committees might start on inspection trips which will take them to Wooster and Cleveland.

DEMOCRATS MEET

Parly Leaders in Conference at Miami, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla. — (United Press) — Prominent Democratic leaders from many sections met here today with James M. Cox, presidential nominee in 1920.

Altho insisting there was no political significance attached to the gathering, the Democratic leaders freely discussed possible issues in coming campaign and hinted that Governor A. L. Smith of New York might be the standard bearer in 1924.

The next campaign, Cox declared, will be waged on the foreign policy and tariff legislation of the Harding administration. Prohibition also will be an issue, other Democrats said.

CHILD DIES FROM BURNS

IN HOME AT MINSTER

Alvina Bergman, 4, daughter of Anna Bergman, died at Minster Thursday of burns from burns suffered when her clothing caught fire as she was playing about a cook stove in the home.

Her clothing, except the shoes were burned from the child's body. The mother was outside the house when the tragedy occurred. Two other children, from the home of a neighbor, witnessed the death of the child.

Crews of 3 Other Vessels Lost off West Coast Saved

NORFOLK, Va. — (Associated Press) — Efforts of coast guard headquarters to get in touch with the Italian steamship Moncenisio, reported sinking 500 miles off the Virginia coast yesterday, has been without result at noon today. The steamship Carpiake, New Orleans for Havre, picked up the distress call of the Moncenisio and went to her assistance but attempts to communicate with her also were of no avail.

SEATTLE, Wash. — (Associated Press) — With the crews of three vessels that yesterday met disaster as storms swept that dread region of navigators in the Pacific ocean west of Washington and South of Vancouver Island saved, wireless operators along the coast today were reaching into the air for word of the steamship Tuscan Prince. No authentic news of the Tuscan Prince had come since she sent a faint message yesterday morning, her wireless apparently failing before she could give her position.

The steamer Nika, which burned to the water's edge after she lost her rudder was a drifting hulk while her crew was coming to Seattle.

The steamer Santa Rita which went upon the rocks near Carmanah light on the west side of Vancouver Island was believed to be still afloat altho expected to be a total loss. Her crew with a few tents camped on the inhospitable coast in that vicinity. The tug Sea March was expected to take them up today.

The motor ship Coelcha with two of her officers aboard, was clinging to the rocks at Albert Head near Victoria. Her owners hoping that she might yet be gotten off or that at least her machinery might be saved.

MAY BE BURNED

Fevered, fruitless questioning throughout last night was concerned almost wholly with the fate of the Tuscan Prince. This British passenger and freight liner with her captain and crew of 42 was the subject of contradictory rumors throughout the night.

A report that she had been found and her crew saved was discovered to be based on hearsay.

In the night a report that a vessel had been seen off near Pachena Point, on the west side of Vancouver Island, led to the belief that the Tuscan Prince, like the Nika might have fallen a prey to flames in the midst of a losing struggle with the deep. But early today the Canadian Salvage ship Algonquin which had hurried to the vicinity of Point Pachena, reported that a thorough search had showed no sign of a burning ship.

In search of the Tuscan Prince, the coast guard cutter Algonquin, which relayed a report picked up at Astoria, Ore., that was mistakenly interpreted here as indicating that the steamer's crew had been saved.

The Tuscan Prince was reported to have been sighted near Cape Flattery. The Algonquin was expected to reach this scene this forenoon.

The coast guard cutter Snodgrass, which after taking the crew of the Nika to Port Angeles and setting out to destroy the derelict from which she had rescued the men, also was bound to Point Estevan under similar orders.

One possible explanation of the reported burning ship was a message that the steamer Canadian Volunteer "may have been sending up rockets near Pachena Point."

The salvage ship Algonquin searched the vicinity early today without finding anything.

TOMB UNSEALED

Many Witness Entrance to Pharaoh Resting Place

LUXOR, Egypt — (Associated Press) — The sarcophagus of the Pharaoh Tutankhamen was found when the inner chamber in his tomb was opened by the British archaeologists this afternoon.

Many articles of furniture also were in the mortuary chamber. A large crowd of visitors and newspaper men had assembled early in the morning in anticipation of the unsealing.

Before the work was started inscriptions of the seals on the masonry were taken by the eminent British Egyptologist James H. Breasted and Allan Gardiner.

BURNS CHIEF TO ANSWER CHARGES

Will Reply to Accusations of Detective Frameup

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Allen O. Meyers, chief of the radical bureau of the W. J. Burns International Detective Agency, was here today prepared to answer charges made against him by Albert Ballin, alias Albert Balthow, contained in a deposition being made for use in the trial of 22 alleged members of the Communist party at St. Joseph, Mich., February 26.

Balthow, while testifying on direct examination, charged that Meyers proposed that he go to Russia and kill Lenin and Trotsky; that Meyers told him to make a fictitious report purporting to show that he had acted as an agent for "Big Bill" Haywood, I. W. W. leader, transporting a trunk of radical literature from Chicago to a man named P. Walter in New York and that the trunk was to be used as a "plant" on which to base Walter's arrest.

Meyers was ordered here to testify for the defense. He declined to reveal what the nature of this testimony would be made.

Balthow who has told a lengthy story of alleged methods employed by private detective agencies in investigating radical movements, apparently suffered a lapse of memory yesterday.

The confessed agent provocateur was unable to tell his exact age, the date of his birth or birthplace. He said he had not long ago communicated with his mother in Russia, but said he could not remember the name of the town in which she resides.

MURDER PROBED

Mutilated Body of Man is Found Near Chicago

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Arrests in connection with the murder of an unidentified man whose mutilated body was found near here, were believed near today, as police traced the murder car.

The machine, with three occupants, was seen by a dozen persons near the spot where the body was found. At De Kalb, Ill., police discovered a restaurant in which the three men are believed to have eaten.

Frank Dearth, waiter in the restaurant, told police that two one-dollar bills given him by the man who paid the check, were covered with blood. The body had not been identified today.

17 DIE FROM ALCOHOLISM CLEVELAND — The death of a man registered at a hotel here as Charles Murphy of New York early today was the seventeenth since the first of the year from alcoholism. He was removed from his room to a hospital late yesterday.

Booze Occupying Pews in the Place of Worship

YOUNGSTOWN — (Associated Press) — Ten prisoners of the 42 said to have been arrested here last night in wholesale raids by the Dry Enforcement league were located today in the jail at Struthers, Ohio. The others could not be found.

The raids were made by a hundred dry agents who started out in squads of eight after a meeting at the Y. M. C. A., battered down doors, used guns and clubs where resistance was offered, and collected their prisoners in the Trinity M. E. church here.

The agents said they raided 42 places in Youngstown, East Youngstown and Struthers and declared they made at least one arrest at every place visited.

Hundreds of gallons of liquor seized by the raiders today was occupying the pews in the rear of the Trinity church.

U. S. DENOUNCES BRITISH ATTITUDE

Expulsion of American Consuls Brings Sharp Note

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The United States has prepared a sharp note to Great Britain, denouncing the attitude of the latter government in expelling two American consuls from Newcastle, England, it was learned today.

The note, signed by Secretary of State Hughes, takes no trouble to conceal the displeasure of the American government at the stand taken by Great Britain in connection with her action some months ago, in cancelling the exequaturs or recognition of the United States consuls at New Castle.

It is understood that Secretary Hughes shortly will publish the American note making plain the extreme annoyance and displeasure of this government.

The Newcastle incident has caused an unusual amount of friction between the two governments.

ISADORA WILL NOT DIVORCE MATE

Dancer Overlooks Her Husband's Temperamental Affliction

PARIS — (United Press) — Altho Serge Escoffier, a temperamental poet-husband of Isadora Duncan, spent the night in jail on a charge of drunkenness, was ejected from the Hotel Grillon and is on his way hurriedly to Berlin, Isadora loves him, still.

"I won't divorce Serge," the dancer said in an interview today, speaking of last night's fracas. "Isadora has I would do anything in the world for him. His afflicted, poetical temperament is much like that of Edgar Allan Poe."

"I have tried to cure him of it, but I failed. Last night at our hotel, he became ill and I went to hunt a doctor. When I returned they had taken him away."

"Serge is going to Berlin to stay with Maxim Gorky awhile. I am ill. Little is known of just what happened in the dancer's suite at the Grillon except Isadora emerged hurriedly and flew off in search of a physician. Serge, charged by the police with being extremely intoxicated, was bundled off to the police station and locked up for the night. The management of the exclusive Grillon, asked Isadora and her husband to leave today."

Serge was heard to vow that he would leave Isadora "for keeps."

FORBES' RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY HARDING

WASHINGTON — The resignation of Colonel Charles R. Forbes as director of the Veterans' Bureau, has been accepted by President Harding, effective February 28, it was announced today at the White House.

Without comment, White House officials made public an undated letter from the retiring director who now is in Europe, assigning ill health as the reason for his resignation. There was no mention either in the letter or by officials at the executive offices, of the charges of improper administration in the bureau which recently has led to an investigation by a committee of congress.

Mrs. Wallace Reid, wife of the late picture star, is to carry on her fight against the drug traffic which took her famous husband's life. Here she is shown with Thomas H. Ince, prominent producer, planning a picture in which Mrs. Reid will appear. All the proceeds will go to the establishment of the Reid Memorial Hospital at Los Angeles for the treatment of drug addicts.

WILL CONTINUE PROBE OF DISCOUNT COMPANY

CLEVELAND — Prosecutor Stanton said Friday that he will continue his investigation of the affairs of the Cleveland Discount Company, of which Josiah Kirby retired as president Tuesday.

At the same time, Stanton made it clear that he had no criticism to make of Kirby beyond the fact, that, in his opinion, Kirby had made some mistakes of judgment. Stanton and Kirby had a long conference in the prosecutor's office late Thursday.

Kirby said that the attack on the discount company was a personal attack against himself and that the company was not "broke and never would be."

An invitation to Stanton to audit his personal accounts was extended by Kirby.

POLICE CITE NINE IN TAG CASES

Fail to Secure 1923 Auto Licenses in Designated Time

Lima autoists who failed to heed the warning against driving their machines after February 15 with 1922 licenses, were spotted by police Friday morning and ordered into court.

At noon, nine machines had been tagged and police report that they are arresting drivers on this charge at the rate of two an hour. Those ordered into court at noon were: Edward Hagan, 970 Rice-av.; E. S. Thomas, Lima R. D. 5; Louis Silverman; L. L. Goode, Columbus Grove; Carl Fletcher; R. B. Hidenour, 505 E. Vine-st; and M. Marbach, W. Waynest.

Due to the absence from the city of Judge Samuel Jackson, the offenders did not appear in court and will be arraigned Saturday morning.

S. J. Shepherd's car was also tagged for wrong parking. Virgil Freeman, Madison-av. was ordered into court because his license tag was invisible and A. W. Schmidt, St. Mary's, was tagged for wrong parking.

SHOOTING PROBED

Aviator is Mysteriously Murdered at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Associated Press) — Earle Remington, aviator and electrical engineer, was shot to death shortly before midnight in the yard of his home in one of the most exclusive residential sections of Los Angeles. Circumstances surrounding the slaying and motive for it proved mystifying in early stages of police investigation today.

Leaders, however, expected a vote before night, since passage of the measure had been conceded by opponents and the discussion was described yesterday as nearly exhausted.

The agreement confines each senator speaking after two o'clock to ten minutes and provides that the chair shall not keep a list of members to recognize for addresses.

SENATE WILL VOTE ON DEBT MEASURE TODAY

WASHINGTON — The senate resumed discussion of the British debt funding bill today under an agreement to limit debate after two o'clock and vote before adjournment even though a night session should be required.

Leaders, however, expected a vote before night, since passage of the measure had been conceded by opponents and the discussion was described yesterday as nearly exhausted.

The agreement confines each senator speaking after two o'clock to ten minutes and provides that the chair shall not keep a list of members to recognize for addresses.

SHOPS SEIZED BY FRENCH TROOPS

Situation Called Grave as German Resistance Grows

TENSION AT HIGH PITCH

Cafes Taken at Bayonet Point by Invaders

ESSEN — (United Press) — German police shot two French soldiers in the Zellerbach Hotel here last night.

French troops in the hotel insisted upon being served, despite the boycott which was in effect against them. Two German policemen entered and fired upon the French, wounding two.

DUESSELDORF — (United Press) — Arrests, restrictions and resistance in the Ruhr multiplied today until many districts were in a state scarcely distinguishable from that of war.

Conditions were worse at Essen, where two infantry companies were sent out to occupy the town hall and French soldiers with fixed bayonets joyfully helped themselves to shops and restaurants.

The tension increased throughout the day. German nationalists were reported preparing a demonstration against the invaders and the French took extraordinary precautions, fearing a coup.

General Journer sought to break the shopkeepers' boycott against French troops by permitting his soldiers to break in and take what they pleased. Police had a riotous time in cafes, drinking free beer and liquors. Officers requisitioned by force whatever they required.

NEW ARRESTS THREATENED

The same severe conditions visited upon Essen will probably be imposed at Dortmund by tomorrow, in view of increased resistance of the population there after French troops were partly withdrawn from the city. It was stated the chief burgomaster probably would be arrested as a result of his refusal to obey orders of General De Goutte.

Hunger is beginning to make itself felt in several localities and French soup kitchens are appearing here and there. Germans are patronizing these in some instances.

The Wolff agency has a report that a German rail worker was shot and killed by a French soldier near the eastern border of the newly occupied territory.

FRENCH PLA DENIED

LONDON — (United Press) — The latest Franco-British conference ended abruptly today, reportedly in disagreement with the British refusing France permission to run troop-manned trains thru the Cologne area.

Optimists expressed early in the day that M. Tardieu, French minister of public works, would be successful in his mission, was disappointed when the party apparently collapsed.

The entente survives the breakdown, however. It was authoritatively indicated that the French will return to Paris tonight.

Premier Bonar Law, Marquis Curzon and Lord Derby met with Le Troquer and General Poyat at 10 Downing-st today and the French renewed their request for permission to run the train thru the Ruhr, with French guards, thru the area held by the British on the Rhine. It was said the British regard this as an infringement on their sovereignty in the occupied area.

FRENCH MINERS STRIKE — Headquarters of the United Federation of Miners today announced that 100,000 miners have announced the general strike call and walked out. Employers declare that but a small percentage of French mine workers are out and that these are mainly communists.

The general strike order was confirmed at a meeting of the United Federation which represents extremists, last night, after some men, already had quit work, and delegates left early today for various centers of the Loire basin to organize rallies.

The employers gave in to the extent of a concession to discuss the question of wages, which precipitated the general strike with the men's leaders.

DEATH FROM POISON

GAS IS INVESTIGATED

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — An investigation into the source of the mysterious gas poison which killed William Edginger, a chauffeur and caused twelve others to be taken to hospitals here, was being conducted by police today.

The gas, it is believed, came from a broken main and unable to escape thru frozen ground, followed water pipes into houses where the persons were overcome. A war veteran said the poison had an odor of mustard gas.

Coroner Gray said the peculiar odor may have been caused by a combination of vegetable matter in the frozen ground.

LIQUOR INVESTIGATION

IS ORDERED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON — An inquiry into the importation of intoxicating liquors by foreign diplomats was ordered today by the house by a vote of 189 to 113.

The inquiry is directed to Secretary Mellon, who already has informed the house judiciary committee that he could not "properly" give out the information which the house now asks for.

ROBBERS GET $7,000 SUPERIOR NEB. — Robbers blow safe of the state bank at Oak, Neb., today and escaped with $7,000 in cash and Liberty bonds. Thirteen charges of explosives were used in opening the safe.

WASHINGTON — An inquiry into the importation of intoxicating liquors by foreign diplomats was ordered today by the house by a vote of 189 to 113.

The inquiry is directed to Secretary Mellon, who already has informed the house judiciary committee that he could not "properly" give out the information which the house now asks for.

OFFICIAL FIGHTS SUIT FOR $500

Case of Morphis vs. Trubey
Opens Before Judge Blachly

R. R. TRUBEY IS DEFENDANT

Court Action is Echo of Louis
Morphis Conviction

That $500 given R. R. Trubey, assistant prosecuting attorney, by Sadie M. Morphis in connection with the case of Louis Morphis, was to be employed in defense of the latter, was asserted by T. R. Hamilton, counsel for the accused county official in the opening statement of the trial, Friday morning.

Sadie Morphis, wife of Louis, is seeking to recover the money. She charges it was given to Trubey as an indemnity to secure him against loss which might be incurred in signing bond of Louis Morphis.

Purpose of the deposit was admitted in the trial statement to the jury made by the defense, but it was asserted that it will be shown at the same time Sadie Morphis employed Trubey to defend her husband, Louis, and the money was to be used for such purpose. It was on her assurance, the jury was told, that Trubey acted.

Trubey made two trips to Toledo and three trips to West Cairo, it was stated, besides appearing in court in Morphis' behalf.

A counter claim in set off by the defense for $281, of which $81 is claimed still due.

A jury was secured to try the case shortly before noon, and the trial statements of the conflicting attorneys were made prior to adjournment.

TOLEDO MAN CALLED
Witnesses called into the case by Trubey include Police Inspector Louis Haas and Detective J. J. Mullin, Stephen Quinn and C. P. Marple, of the Toledo police department.

The officers were members of the vice-squad of the Toledo department.

Sadie Morphis was among the first witnesses called to take the stand when court resumed Friday afternoon.

She told of being called to Lima from Toledo September 23, 1929. There had been some trouble between her and Louis Morphis, she revealed, but she came down to help him.

She was accompanied to Lima by Louis Raney, a Toledo lawyer. They called on Trubey in the Paulist-bk. Arrangements for procuring Louis Morphis' release on bond were made, she said.

Morphis was under arrest and later convicted and sent to Toledo workhouse in connection with intimidating witnesses in the Tom Copeys case.

Copeys was a Greek laborer, arrested on statutory charges in connection with an attack on a young boy near West Cairo. Morphis was charged with paying a Mrs. Cahill the sum of $75 to drop the case.

Judge Blachly granted a motion for the amending of the answer of the defendant.

Motion to require the plaintiff to put up $35 to secure additional costs was also allowed.

TWO HUNDRED KINFOLK SURVIVE DELPHOS MAN

Two hundred members of the Tauschart family, immediate and distant, comprising one of the largest relationships in Ohio, gathered Friday in Delphos to attend the funeral of Frederick A. Tauschart, 82.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Barbara Tauschart, he is survived by seven sons and daughters, Joseph P. Tauschart, Kokomo, Ind.; Mrs. Anna Remz, Toledo; Ed Tauschart, Pittsburg; Emil Tauschart, Toledo; Herman Tauschart, Toledo; Arnold Tauschart, Toledo; and Mrs. Mervin Plummer, Delphos; also 21 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

All these relatives, Mrs. Lawrence Weiner, Chicago, and many others were expected to attend the funeral.

Services were conducted at 2 p. m. at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Rev. J. G. Mittelmeier in charge. Interment in West Side cemetery.

TEN SEEK $700 A YEAR POSITION AT DELPHOS

Evidence that unemployment is still somewhat prevalent is revealed by the number of bids received by Postmaster Ed Truesdale, Delphos, for a position as mail messenger.

Ten bids were received altogether for a job that requires presence of the employee at the postoffice and railroad depots 17 hours per day and which is not expected to pay more than $600 or $700 per year.

Bids closed Thursday night. They were forwarded to Washington.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 60 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 609 N. Lake-st., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one away to the first user in each lot. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. adv

NO ABATEMENT OF COLD WAVE

Extracting enjoyment from sunshine in midwinter isn't a case of "making hay while the sun shines," but it is something akin to it, when mankind is grateful for the warmth that is bestowed by Old Sol's rays as they brighten up the face of the earth.

However, there is prospect that the sun will be "here today and gone tomorrow." Forecast of weather conditions provides for continued cold and partly cloudy tonight. Probably snow flurries near Lake Erie.

The cold wave hangs on persistently, but it hasn't provided the most intense conditions of the present winter, as some may suppose. Several times during the past few days the mercury has been near the zero unit, however, on December 6, the official thermometer registered six below.

All citizens are grateful for at least partial relief from biting cold winds, but nipping conditions continue, with no prospect of abatement soon. Even Ottawa river has succumbed to the effect of the frigid wave and its surface for the most part is glazed over.

Discharge of sewage into this waterway keeps it free of ice under ordinary conditions.

H. E. Throne Denies Passing Bad
Paper; Out on Bond

H. E. Throne, 40, Toledo automobile salesman, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. M. Botkin, Thursday night on a charge of passing a worthless check for $125. He was released on $500 bond and his hearing set for Monday.

Throne was arrested by Wilbur Cherry, detective, who trailed him to Toledo and took him in custody in connection with the Toledo police complaint was lodged against Throne by R. S. Sweeney, who asserted he accepted the alleged bad check in payment for auto accessories.

The paper was drawn The American Savings and Trust Bank, of Toledo, Ohio.

PETTICOAT RULE SUITS DAYTONA

Women Fill Important City Offices in Southern City

DAYTONA, Fla. — (Special) — "Petticoat government" isn't a thing, it's a fact. It's a fact that women fill important city offices in Daytona. They are the ones who are the backbone of the city's administration.

These are among the adjectives the citizens apply to the present municipal administration. The mayor's a woman. The city clerk likewise. And the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, strictly speaking, this latter may not classify as a governmental position, but it always has been regarded as more than half political and it's recognized as of highest importance to Daytona's material welfare.

STARTED WITH MAYOR

It started with the mayorality. Several months ago the city found itself face to face with the task of choosing a new chief magistrate. The election was split into two irreconcilable factions. Then somebody had the happy thought of a compromise on Dr. M. Josie Rogers. Result—the election of a woman to the mayor's office, remaining on the city hall without stir, and peace.

Next the city clerk fell ill and had to quit. The commissioners were considerably unsettled over the selection of his successor—until the suggestion was advanced that a woman mayor had proved such a success—why not have a woman clerk, as well? Now Miss Louise Hough presides in the clerk's office, and citizens who call are careful to dust their shoes on the doormat before entering, after which they remain awhile, their business transacted, to chat amiably about the missus' new vacuum cleaner.

What's more, there's a great deal of talk of adding several more women to Daytona's list of city officials.

DEATH DEFIED IN MICROBE HUNT

Paris Professor Faces Dangers in Research Work

STUDIES BASIS OF DISEASE

Making Special Effort Toward Tuberculosis Bug

(BY JOHN O'BRIEN)

PARIS — (United Press) — Dr. Gori, professor of the school of pharmacy of Paris, takes his life in his hands every day in his endeavors to solve the riddle of the deadly microbe.

What is this infinitesimal substance which is now recognized as the basis of disease? Is it animal? Is it a plant? What is its chemical constitution? These are the questions which Dr. Gori is trying to answer definitely and his task exposes him to as much danger as any soldier ever faced on the battlefield.

Dr. Gori is an expert in the chemical analysis of plants. Believing that chemistry would enable him to delve deep into the mysteries of microbiology, he has devoted many years to the study of chemical composition of the microbe, specializing on one which has been so disastrous for the human race—the microbe of tuberculosis. Two lack of precise knowledge of the exact composition of this microbe is responsible for the failure so far of all efforts to discover a method of killing it in the human organism.

Several American, Japanese and German bacteriologists have shown that the Koch bacillus, or tuberculosis microbe, contains special substances such as wax, acids, cellulose and mineral elements rich in phosphorus, soda, chalk and magnesium, as well as active toxic elements.

Dr. Gori witnessed some experiments with Koch bacilli at the Pasteur Institute and immediately came to the conclusion that they displayed all the characteristics of a plant life. His subsequent experiments led him to what he believes is scientific confirmation of that theory.

How does this latter day alchemist analyze, dissect, these substances which are so small as to be invisible except under a powerful microscope? He begins by spreading the bacilli on a ground of glycerine, then taking small pieces by exposing them to a temperature of 120 degrees Centigrade, washing them and drying the residue he derives at the most perilous stage of his work.

He takes this mass of dead microbes, steeping it in ice cold water and filters it. In spite of all the precautions adopted, this part of the scientist's work causes crises of asphyxiation, heavy fevers, nervous disturbances to everybody who takes part in it. Some have shown signs of incipient tuberculosis. Dr. Gori is led to believe that this bacillus acts above all the toxic effluvia which they give off even when they have been killed.

In the course of his subsequent researches, including the physical dissection of this protoplasmic mass of bacilli, Dr. Gori has discovered a special form of ether to which he has given the name of "hyalinol." It looks like pieces of cellulose when sliced and rapidly decomposes into an inorganic acid, with heavy odor as of putrid butter. When this "hyalinol" is extracted from the bacilli and then recombined in water, leaving behind what Dr. Gori terms the actual skeleton of the microbe. This is as far as he has gone, because of the expense of further experimentation is beyond the means at his disposal.

AUTO PARTS ARE STOLEN FROM FT. JENNINGS STORE

Seven auto tires and a crankshaft were stolen Thursday night at the Raabe hardware store, Ft. Jennings, according to a report Friday morning to Delphos police.

Four of the tires are cords, two of them 34 by four, one 33 by four, one 32 by four and the others 30 by three and a half. The merchandise is valued at more than $100. No clues have been found.

GIRLS ASK $200,000 FROM CULT HEAD IN SUIT

Mrs. Gladys Bamford Rubel, 19, (left) and Mrs. Ruth Bamford Reed (right), sisters, of Detroit, Mich., have started suit for $200,000 damages against Benjamin Franklin Purnell, 61, (below), founder, high priest and "king" of the "Isis" House of David, religious cult at Benton Harbor, Mich. Affidavits in-counsel allege Purnell caused them to be brought to his home at a tender age to be initiated into love rites.

GIRLS URGED TO HIDE DEFECTS

Costume Expert Tells 'Em How to be More Beautiful

(BY HEDDA HOYT)

NEW YORK, N. Y. — (United Press) — Leon Bakst, famous costumer and founder of the modern school of costume design, discussed the secrets of feminine artifice and dress before hundreds of fashionable New York women who filled the Plaza ballroom.

He began his lecture on the "silhouettes" which he considers the most important thing in the fashion world. "Unfortunately," he said, "women suffer from a strange infirmity, which causes them to think firstly of their faces, their hands and their feet. They give little heed to their silhouettes—the all-important thing."

"Hiding the imperfections of the body is a powerful art. Black is the most powerful color we have to fight bulky imperfections, for black makes whatever it covers disappear and when one sees nothing, one imagines beauty. That is the charm of the masquerade. A man sees a masked woman. She may be as homely as can be, but, allured by her hidden features, the man assumes her to be a beauty."

"Many fat women make the mistake of wearing clothes that fit too tightly. This is especially so among concert singers who crush in their fat thus defeating their own ends."

HOPE ALSO FOR MISS SKINNY

The too-thin woman also received a bit of valuable advice. Ways of hiding her offending parts by means of false waists and hip-draperies were shown by screen slides.

"Skinny ladies particularly make themselves unbecomingly, unless deftly hidden under carefully devised skirts," said Bakst.

He suggested that the too-thin woman use large designs and ornamentalations. For her he suggests the light colored furs, such as ermine and squirrel, as they exaggerate fullness. On the contrary dark furs with long hair are best for the woman who leans toward embonpoint.

Concerning the corset, Bakst stated that the so-called form of which the poets rave is obtained by abdominal supports, and that in order to give

NO LOVE FOR TAILORED SUIT

In contrasting the American women with the French women, Mr. Bakst said: "I confess I do not like the tailored suit, although I realize its importance to women whose work takes them daily into public life. If the business girl could not take refuge upon the half-man that she has been during the day by dressing in feminine clothing at night—Mon, Dieu, what would become of the apostles of beauty?"

American women according to Bakst wear their clothing with more severity than do the French women. He claims that the American women look as though their costumes are a little newer and more severe than the French women. About the French woman there is always some little fragile touch of femininity which adds a charm which the Americans in their severity lack.

YOUNG MAN CONFESSES ROBBERY AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI — Clay Mershon, 20, of this city, who was arrested in Portsmouth, several days ago, confessed, according to the police today, of being one of the men who held up the H. H. Meyer Packing Company paymaster here on February 2, and robbing him of $5,800.

The police say the confession was made after Mershon was told of the arrest in New Orleans, of James Maloney, 18, of Norwood, Ohio.

Mershon is said to have admitted that the $565 which was found by detectives in a house in the west end here yesterday is part of the Meyer Packing Company money and was hidden in the house by him.

He is said to have told detectives that he divided the stolen money with three confederates and that the third man was a stranger to him.

FAXON IS APPOINTED PLANT INDUSTRY CHIEF

COLUMBUS — Announcement of the appointment of Richard Faxon of Elyria as acting chief of the division of plant industry, Department of agriculture, by Director Truxax was made today. He succeeds E. C. Cotton resigned. Mr. Faxon has been employed in the department since 1914.

Director Truxax also announced the appointment of Harry Zachman of Marion as cashier of the fish and game division to succeed Frank Bryant, resigned.

FESTIVAL OPENED

Moose Temple Scene of Gayety
Thursday Night

Large throngs of pleasure-bent persons were put out at the premier opening of the 10 days' fun festival being staged at Moose Temple, North and West-sts., Thursday night. The building was brilliantly illuminated. The interior was gay with many colored decorations, which reflected the spirit of the occasion.

Outside, the cold wind whined a dismal tune. Within lights blazed, music filled the air and warmth and gaiety defied the gloom without.

Chief among the attractions at the festival is the display of Mooseheart products manufactured by the children in the home. The handicraft of the youngsters is said to be wonderful and a monument to the benevolence of the lodge which is educating them to useful lives.

The festival will continue ten days. A Yuletide will be featured on several of the nights. Receipts will go toward the building fund of the lodge.

MINERS' CONVENTION REVISING CONSTITUTION

COLUMBUS — Delayed action on the minimum wage, old age pensions, state constabulary and other resolutions before the body was seen this afternoon as the state miners' convention settled down to the routine of revising the constitution.

Revision of the district constitution of the mine workers, an annual undertaking of the convention, probably will consume the balance of the day at least, leaders said.

A radical change in that part of the constitution dealing with "floaters" miners who work in the mines during the "fat" months, turn to farming and other industries during times when the mines are virtually idle, was under consideration.

Under the proposed constitutional revision "floaters" to get back into the union at the opening of activity in the mines would have to pay the regular initiation fee and in addition a $50 fine.

TO OFFER LIFE FOR SERVICE

Baltimore Chemist to Enter Room
Filled With Deadly Gas

DOG TO BE COMPANION

Test Will be of Help in Studying
Cause of Disease

BALTIMORE — (Special)—Risking his life for the sake of science, a man here will soon enter a sealed chamber which will then be filled with illuminating gas.

With him will go a dog. Observers watching thru glass pannels will take him out when he shows signs of acute distress. The dog will be "taken out—dead."

It will be the first of a series of experiments conducted by the city authorities to discover what makes Baltimore gas so deadly. In the past year 47 persons died from its effects and scores were overcome.

When the health officials, in an attempt to discover the cause, decided on these tests, Dr. J. H. Shrader, city chemist, was the first to volunteer as the human subject.

"There is little danger," he said. "Besides, we may find out things about this gas which may be of value to the health of the entire nation."

He added that it was possible that thousands of cases of illness attributed to other causes may be due to lowered vitality caused by the inhaling of illuminating gas.

"Each medical expert," he explained, "reports a case in Paris where 26 out of 40 persons living in one house suffered from chronic carbon monoxide poisoning. The resultant lowered vitality was favorable to the development in them of tendencies to diseases they may have inherited from their parents or of contagion to which they may have been exposed."

"There is carbon monoxide in the gas served here. If it leaks, a result such as that found in Paris may develop."

In his experiments, Dr. Shrader will be assisted by Walter M. Berry, engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, Dr. C. W. Mitchell, of the U. S. Public Health Service, and other government experts.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull aching in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinoous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

FARMER REACHED BY BOOM

Readjustment of Local Demand Brings Improvement

HOGS AND CATTLE HIGH

Wheat Rises in Sympathy With Advance in Corn

CHICAGO — (United Press) — The business boom sweeping thru industrial America has at last reached the farmer.

"The farmer is in a far better position today than he has been at any time during the past two years," Frank W. Waddell, vice-president of Armour & Co., told the United Press.

"The recovery of the farmer is due to two economic facts," Waddell said. "First he has readjusted his operations to domestic demands and second the large and bountiful production of last year."

"The livestock farmer has been particularly prosperous but this does not apply to the ranchman of the far west who has not been so successful in the readjustment of operations governing the marketing of grass fed cattle."

"But the farmer who goes in for agriculture generally and uses live stock as a means of marketing his grain, has been eminently successful."

HOGS AND CATTLE HIGH

"Prices for the best hogs and beef cattle have been high. The farmers of the middle west are classed as feeders and buy what is called 'unfinished' cattle from the breeder, feed them intensively and then market them. Feeders made from two to five cents a pound on this transaction last fall."

"A year ago corn growers were begging someone to take their crop and it was even suggested that corn be used as fuel. At that time the hog market strengthened and the demand was large. This established an immediate market for corn which acted the farmer twice as much in the form of pork as he would have obtained for the grain. The same condition held in the better grades of beef."

"As corn rose—and it was due entirely to the increased demand for hogs—wheat advanced in sympathy. This condition held thruout the year."

"The ranchman's financial difficulties were largely due to climatic conditions and the super-abundance of medium cattle on the market. The increased demand for corn-fed beef also cut largely into the demand for grass fed cattle. SHEEP PROFITABLE "Sheep have been unusually high and extremely profitable to producers. From every point of view it may be safely said that the livestock producer has led the farmers' march back toward prosperity. "The cotton planter of the south has done almost as well, because of the steadily advancing prices asked for his product. "Of all farmers probably the truck and fruit grower near a big city has suffered most. There has been a sharp curtailment in the demand for canned fruits and vegetables. Over production in some instances was so great that it did not pay the grower to pick his fruit. Labor and distribution costs were high and were largely responsible for the sluggishness of the market for this type of product. MARKET AGENCIES HELPED "The agencies which market the farmer's product, quite aware of deplorable financial condition of Europe were a major influence in the farmer's readjustment to a domestic market basis. Under ordinary circumstances Europe takes up the slack in domestic consumption created by excess production. Since the armistice that possibility has been lacking and the near future apparently holds no prospect for betterment. Therefore, any market operations predicted on anything except a domestic consumption are conducted on an unsubstantial basis. "Of course the European market will re-open but it is impossible to guess when. "It would be absurd to give the impression that the industrial readjustment of this country should be made permanently on a basis of domestic consumption, but, certainly for the present, that is the solution of problems which agriculture is facing."

Pillsbury's Best Flour

Despite the high quality of Pillsbury's Best Flour, it is distinctly economical. Pillsbury's Best, due to its rich gluten content, gives you more foods to the sack, and here is the reason: The gluten in Pillsbury's Best absorbs and holds more liquid. This, too, is why foods keep better when made from Pillsbury's Best.

SECOND MARRIAGE UNSATISFACTORY

Mrs. Edna Pommell Seeks Decree After One Year.

Divorced, married and now seeking her second decree in a little more than one year, is the record set by Mrs. Edna Pommell, who is seeking freedom from Harry S. Pommell, 599 Highland-av.

A petition charging Pommell with leaving her without support, and neglecting to care for her and her two children by a previous marriage was filed in common pleas court Friday.

They were married January 28, 1922. Mrs. Pommell had been divorced from Arthur Laughlin, but a few short weeks, court records reveal. The decree was allowed by Judge Fred C. Becker, on a showing made of cruelty and neglect.

She seeks to resume her former name, Edna Laughlin, in the present decree. Pommell is a laborer. The pair have lived apart part of the time since their marriage on this account, the petition sets forth.

POLICEMEN GUESTS OF ARGONNE HOTEL MANAGER

Members of the Lima police force were entertained at dinner Thursday evening by the management of the Argonne hotel.

The dinner was given as an appreciation of the service which the department afforded the city during the financial crisis last fall, and in order that the new manager of the hotel might become personally acquainted with the members of the department.

Y. W. C. A. PLAYLET IS GIVEN BY T. N. T. CLUB

"A Southern Cinderella," a playlet presented by the T. N. T. club at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday night, was well received and is said to have been one of the best entertainments ever presented at the Y. W. headquarters.

Miss Florence Hunter was cast in the principal part and was ably supported by Misses Loretta Hartline, Ollie Doyore, Vivian Skiles, Mabel Tucker and Susie Dapratto. Miss Winifred Murray is chairman of the entertainment committee which presented the playlet.

During intermission between acts, Misses Vivian Skiles and Agnes Woolley sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Mary Bushong.

MANY ESSAYS RECEIVED PATRIOTIC CONTEST

Many essays had been received by Miss Zella Foster, principal, from junior high school students Friday, which marked the closing of the essay contest arranged by the Lima chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The contest is divided into two parts, the seventh grade writing on the subject, "Colonial Days in America" and the eighth grade pupils on "George Washington in History."

A prize of five dollars in gold will be given the winner of each essay. Mrs. O. B. Selbridge, Mrs. J. B. Sullivan and Mrs. C. D. Gamble are the judges.

DELPHOS HIGH STUDENTS SEEK FUNDS FOR RADIO

Students of Jefferson high school, Delphos, plan to secure enough money from a benefit motion picture program and candy sale Friday night to buy a radio outfit.

The picture, a classical production entitled "Julius Caesar," will be shown at Jefferson auditorium. Material for the sale was prepared by the domestic science department of the school.

W. S. JACKSON CHOSEN AS FINANCE COMPANY HEAD

Walter S. Jackson was elected president of the Franklin Finance company for the ensuing year, at the annual meeting Thursday afternoon. Other officers chosen are: William E. Bayly, vice president; John W. Roby, treasurer; John F. Cover, Jr., treasurer.

Dr. M. A. Wagner and John S. Williams were also elected to serve on the board of directors. A dividend of 6 per cent was declared earned and payable at the meeting.

JURY REPORT NEAR

Probers Expected to Complete Work Late Friday

With but a few more witnesses to testify, the Allen-co grand jury is expected to make a report on the list of indictments late Friday.

Mrs. Margaret Fraser, wife No. 2 of Robert Fraser, was a witness Thursday, and told her story: Wife No. 1, who came here from Milwaukee to face her mate, will testify before the jury late Friday in substantiation of a bigamy charge.

Nothing of a really sensational character will likely be brought out by the grand jury investigation. Prosecuting Attorney Eugene T. Lippincott declared at noon Friday.

CONFERENCE CALLED FOR CHAUTAUQUA AT DELPHOS

A conference of Delphos citizens interested in a chautauqua for 1923 has been called for Saturday, when a new proposition will be offered them.

M. S. Knapp, advance representative of the Coit-Alber circuit, will be present to afford information on an independent chautauqua, along different plans than that heretofore employed.

CHURCH MEN HEAR STORY OF ARMENIAN SUFFERING

Members of the Church Men's luncheon club, which met at the Y. M. C. A. Friday noon, were addressed by Rev. M. E. Goodrich, of Cleveland, on the Near East Relief question.

Report of the committee of by-laws and constitution was presented by R. B. Mikosell, chairman of the committee on constitution and organization.

TURK ULTIMATUM IS IGNORED

Allies Refuse to Withdraw Ships
From Smyrna Harbor

ANGORA DEMAND ANSWERED

British, French Send Note to Ottoman Government

LONDON (United Press) — Allied high commissioners are sending a note to Ankara today, refusing to recognize the Turkish ultimatum demanding evacuation of Smyrna harbor by foreign war craft.

British and French cruisers and destroyers have remained in the harbor since the ultimatum was issued. The note from the allies, however, demands that the Turkish government should withdraw its ultimatum.

Trouble is not expected, however, the French believing it may yet be possible to resume the peace talks that collapsed at Lausanne.

Presence of Sir Horace Rumbold, British envoy, at Constantinople, says rise to rumors in French circles that the treaty might be signed there.

PARIS (United Press) — The council of ambassadors has awarded Memel to Lithuania.

The new government under Premier Gallus, has been installed and Lithuanian irregulars, who effected the coup and held the city against the allies, are withdrawing.

Conditions protecting minority peoples in Memel are attached to the ambassadors' grant.

Less than two months ago, the city of Memel, East Prussia, was the peaceful capital of an international zone over which the allies had nominal authority.

One day Lithuanian irregular troops crossed the border, stormed the city, defeated French troops and set up a revolutionary government.

The allies ordered them out, and sent troops and warships. No further fighting occurred, however, and today's announcement that the Lithuanians are to have the city is the first concerning Memel for some time.

WARSAW (Associated Press) — Clash between Polish troops and Lithuanian irregulars have occurred at several places during the occupation of the neutral zone allotted to Poles.

BAD CATARRH OF HEAD IS GONE

Lima Man Had the Rheumatism and Pains and Cramps and the Catarrh

HE PRAISES PLANT JUICE

"When the dreaded catarrh gains a hold it often has an effect upon the system in general," said The Plant Juice Man yesterday, at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where large crowds of people from Lima and throughout all this section are now calling daily.

"Besides causing terrible noises and awful mucus in the head, nose and throat, the catarrh often causes the stomach to become disordered and has such an effect upon the system in general that life becomes a miserable affair. My Plant Juice medicine builds the system, gives good tone to the body in general, acts as an eliminant and drives out the awful mucus from the internal regions and, for these reasons, has given blessed relief in a great many cases of this awful catarrhal trouble."

A case that bears out this statement by The Plant Juice Man was explained at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, a few days ago by Mr. J. H. Smith, of 635 Franklin-st., Lima, a well known local man. He said:

"For several years I had been in mighty bad shape with the rheumatism, catarrh, awful pains in my back and cramps in my feet and legs. My head would get all filled up with mucus from the catarrh and after a time my stomach was affected so that I would have bad bloating spells and at times I couldn't work."

"Finally, I decided to try your Plant Juice medicine and I want to say that it has cleared up the trouble. I do not have one bit of trouble from the catarrh any more—no more mucus in my head or bloating spells with my stomach. The bad pains in my back and the cramps in my feet have been relieved and I do not suffer from the rheumatism any more. I eat and sleep fine and am gaining flesh. Since Plant Juice did so much for me I have asked my wife to try it and am taking some of the medicine home to her today. She is in poor health and I know that your Plant Juice will give her the same relief that it gave me. I gladly recommend your Plant Juice to everybody who suffers as I did."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne-sts and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. —Adv.

PLAN TO OUTLAW WAR PUSHED

Senator Borah to Carry His Fight to the People

MAY APPEAL TO EUROPE

Urges Settlement of Disputes by World Court

(By LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Senator Borah will take to the people of the United States and perhaps to those of Europe, his plan for the outlawing of war and the settlement of international disputes upon a basis of law by a world court.

Borah's latest plan for settling world problems is by far the most ambitious and idealistic he has yet proposed. Its introduction in the senate this week, caused some of his colleagues to accuse Borah of becoming "more of an international idealist than Woodrow Wilson."

In an exclusive interview with the United Press today, Borah said his plan may sound idealistic, but that it is the only practical way to world peace.

PLANS EUROPEAN TRIP
The senator is considering a trip to Europe this summer. If he makes it he will place his proposal squarely before the peoples of the old world.

"All the leagues for peace, and all the world's efforts to prevent war," said Borah, "have recognized the legitimacy of war. For that reason they have all failed. It is just as the world were to enact a law saying murder is legitimate, but it must be committed only with certain weapons of a precisely defined kind and size."

"The proposal I have made to outlaw war by making it a crime against nations is just as practically possible as was the abolition of dueling, or the ending of piracy. It took a long time to do both those things. Public opinion finally accepted it."

Statesmen and diplomats, Borah said, will scoff at his plan, and find many flaws in it. But if he can get the ear of the people who have to die in war and pay for war, he believes he will stir up a great public sentiment in favor of the idea.

"We must abolish the idea of force as a means of peace," he said. "Then would follow the codification, the writing down in order and with precision the vast sum of international law, so that it would be clear and definite. The third step would be establishment of a court to decide disputes under that international law code."

FIRE DESTROYS MILL

A sawmill at Schuman, Van Wert co., west of Villshire, on the Clover Leaf Railroad, owned by the J. P. Robinson company of Decatur, Indiana, was destroyed by fire.

POLICE NET TAKES TWO; JEWEL THEFT CHARGED

Frank Jay, 51, of 621 N. Jackson-st., was the only person arrested Thursday night for drunkenness. He will be arraigned Saturday morning.

Foster Crossley, 20, stenographer, of 546 N. Elizabeth-st., was arrested Thursday night on a warrant held by Dayton police in connection with a jewel robbery in that city.

Crossley, who will be turned over to Dayton police Friday, denies the charge.

DIRECTOR OF AUTO SHOW ARRIVES

R. H. Phillips Takes up Detail of Event for March 6 to 10

R. H. Phillips, managing director of the Lima Automobile Show, to be held at the Tabernacle, March 6-10, has opened the show headquarters at 424 American Bank-bldg. and will remain in the city until the close of the show.

Workmen started Friday on the work of tearing out the stage and booths in the Tabernacle, in preparation for the show which will arrive the latter part of next week to begin "dressing up" the huge building for the automobile classic.

Interest in the show is increasing daily and already space is at a premium. All automobile display space has already been disposed of, while the demand for accessory booths has been exceedingly brisk. When the show opens every available inch of space will be utilized, assuring Lima the biggest automobile show of the year in northwestern Ohio—larger by far than the recent Toledo show—and one of the biggest and best in the state, it is asserted.

FORMER LIMA MAN DIES AT HIS HOME IN AKRON

Body of William H. Hammond, 53, who died Thursday at his home in Akron, 187 Bowers-st., will be brought here Saturday afternoon and taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Overholtz, 1179 Rice-av.

Dolmar Hammond, 670 1-2 S. Elizabeth-st., is a son of the deceased. He is also survived by a grandchild and a brother and a sister, Bert Hammond, of Akron and Mrs. George Rusch, Dayton.

Until five years ago Hammond was a resident of Lima, on the south side.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

FIRE DAMAGES SCHOOL

Fire, which probably started from coals falling from a stove in the one-story brick school house in "Frog Pond" or Elmgrove district, northwest of St. Marys, burned part of the school before volunteer fire fighters, called at midnight, subdued the flames. Dora Harris, teacher, and about 30 pupils are having an enforced vacation.

WIFE'S FIGHT FOR HUSBAND FAILS

Habig Pays Death Penalty for Murdering Policeman

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)

Charles Habig of Cleveland was electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary early this morning for the murder of August Dyke, a policeman.

Habig did not look to the right or left as he entered the death chamber and hastily walked to the chair and seated himself. His face betrayed no expression and he seemed as in a daze. Just before the current was turned on he tightly clenched his fists and died in that posture.

Yesterday afternoon and last night he was visited by his wife and other relatives who made an attempt to see Governor Donahay in a final effort to secure a reprieve, but to no success. Mrs. Habig came here from Wheeling, W. Va., where she has been residing with her two children. Habig's parents also reside there. Mrs. Habig will take the body to Wheeling today.

Habig admitted yesterday that he was guilty of robbery, but denied that he had committed murder.

Following a number of robberies in Cleveland, Patrolman Dyke came on Habig and his two companions and as the men started to run Dyke opened fire. One of the trio returned the fire and Dyke fell mortally wounded. The three men were arrested and Charles Lechner of Akron and Merton Herndon of Mentor, entered pleas of guilty to manslaughter and are now serving sentences in the penitentiary for that crime.

Habig entered a plea of guilty to homicide and Judge Maurice Bernon sentenced him to the electric chair. The court of appeals to which the case had been taken, ordered a new trial on the ground that Habig was not engaged in the common robbery when he killed Dyke. The case was then carried to the supreme court by County Prosecutor Edward Stanton of Cuyahoga co., which reversed the lower court and ordered Habig electrocuted January 13. This time was extended by Governor Donahay in order that he might look into the case. Great pressure, it was said, was brought on the governor to commute the sentence, which he refused to do.

AUTO THEFT RING SEEN BY POLICE

Delphos and Van Wert-co Officials United in Investigation

Delphos and Van Wert-co officials are co-operating in efforts to unearth an alleged auto theft ring which is believed responsible for attempts to steal seven Delphos machines.

One car, a Nash roadster belonging to Ed Fortson, was stolen from a garage at the rear of the Felix Steinhilber residence. Two other cars are kept there, but were not disturbed. Garages of Isadore Fogelin, M. H. Westerlich, Charles Hoelderle and C. R. Morgan also were entered. Entry of the five places, appearing to have been simultaneous, leads officers to believe that the thieves used designs on more than one auto.

Possessed of information he received during the day, Sheriff Ed Torny Thursday night conferred with the Delphos police department and several arrests are expected to follow.

It is improbable that connection will be established between the finding of a stolen Studebaker car between Conroy and Van Wert and the Delphos cases, officers assert. The auto, belonging to a Kendallville, Ind., man was abandoned. The occupants were picked up and taken to Van Wert.

It is impossible to determine from marks on garage doors whether all

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if you hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wroth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wroth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hair, have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant.—Adv.

CHILD GIVEN TO MOTHER IN WINEGARDNER CASE

Mildred Winegardner has been confined to the care of her mother Mrs. Iva Winegardner, defendant in a divorce action brought more than two years ago by Lester Winegardner. An order placing the child in care of her mother was made in common pleas court Friday by Judge Fred C. Becker.

The court also decreed that Winegardner was to pay $3 a week for the child's support for a five week period, and $12 for one week thereafter. The payments are to be lowered to $3 a week.

COMPENSATION DIRECTOR TO VISIT THIS CITY

World war veterans in Allen-co who have not received their state compensation will have an opportunity to present the claims in person to A. G. Brown, Columbus, who is to come here soon to speed settlement of the last 100 Allen-co claims. Brown is assistant director of the adjusted compensation bureau. He will make his headquarters in the Paurot block.

SUBSIDY SEEN AS U. S. SAFETY

More Than Marine Greatness in Ship Bill, Forbes Says

URGES PASSAGE FORTHWITH

Importance of Measure Pointed Out by Writer

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK — (Special) — In this work-a-day world we cannot always hold to the ideal. Sometimes we are compelled to accept something short of the ideal. We have to wrestle with the practical, not merely with the theoretical. Take ship subsidies.

In theory, I am against ship subsidies, just as I believe the world would be better off were tariff makers to see how low, rather than how high they could make tariff walls.

But statesmen and business men must deal with actualities, not only with principles impossible of feasible application. The latter have a saying that a man must first live before he can philosophize. In other words, you have to procure food and clothing and shelter; you have to make ends meet.

Now, while I look upon ship subsidies as theoretically evil, I am convinced that a ship subsidy is a very necessary evil for America to adopt at this stage of her commercial and maritime development.

One powerful reason for Great Britain's dominating place in the world for decades has been her possession of an unmatched merchant marine. Her armadas of merchant ships plying over ocean and sea and bay and inlet have won her not only vast profits, but have played a leading part in building up her influence, her power, her greatness throughout the world.

Ships and national greatness have gone hand-in-hand all thru commercial history.

After having spent two or three billions of dollars to acquire a fleet of mercantile ships, surely it is penny wise and pound foolish for the United States government to sacrifice our opportunity on the seas for the sake of some thirty million dollars a year—which is just the sum that the scheming politicians in Washington are determined to take from you and me and other taxpayers in order to fill the infamous "pork barrel."

Apparently the slogan of congress is: "Thirty millions for the pork barrel but not thirty cents for a merchant marine."

This is the same congress that is willing to endorse total annihilation of some three and a half billion dollars.

Surely this is a flagrant case of swallowing a camel and straining at a gnat.

This country was very willing in the early days of the railroad to pour out millions of dollars for the development of railway transportation. We habitually grant the equivalent of subsidies—in the form of tariff protection—in all kinds of industries. The Federal government offers millions of dollars to encourage the building of roads in every state of the union. Our department of agriculture is given free hand—fortunately—in spending millions every year to help our farmers. And other millions are readily spent for the benefit of other objects and classes.

But when it comes to spending a relatively small sum to help America to win back something like the proud distinction she once held on the mercantile seas, short-sighted politicians hold up their hands in holy horror and exclaim "Not Not Not!"

There is at stake something even more than marine greatness or commercial supremacy or agricultural prosperity, since these are all intimately involved.

That something more is our national safety.

Without shadow of doubt if America allows her mercantile fleet to decay, she will fall into secondary rank as a naval power. For you are very sure that Great Britain is not going to neglect her merchant fleet. She is doing everything within her power to insure absolute supremacy on the mercantile seas, and, incidentally, is succeeding very well indeed. Then, to think of Japan.

And since America's and Britain's navies are being equalized in strength that nation which has the greater auxiliary fleet of merchant ships, and consequently the greater number of trained sailors, will be the more powerful navy-wise.

The small subsidy President Harding proposes may not accomplish all that is necessary. But it should do at least something. And not something ought to be done, and done forthwith.

YEARLY FIRE LOSS MOUNTING RAPIDLY

NEW YORK — The fire loss in the United States in 1921 was $4.54 per capita, a total of $195,499,000, or $12.57,000 for every day in the year. This sounds odd, but it takes many months to compile these statistics and the figures of the National Board of Fire Underwriters are just out.

The loss attributed to "smoking and matches" was $25,952,033, an increase from $16,542,562 from that cause in 1918. Whether the increase in smoking by women has had any effect in increasing the grand total, the board refuses to say, not having delved that deeply into the question.

The 1921 loss was the greatest since 1906 the year the San Francisco quake and fire.

Aside from "smoking and matches" the chief causes of fire were: Spontaneous combustion, $20,180,000;

382; defective chimneys and flues, $14,801,581; stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipe lines, $12,910,537; electricity, $12,723,299; lightning, $12,353,225; and sparks on roofs, $11,458,229.

"While the huge loss shown by our figures are deplorable from every standpoint, considering they represent the wasting of time, labor and material resources at the rate of $1-357,000 a day, the fact the largest part of the loss was preventable makes the destruction particularly appalling."

KNIGHTS OF HOLY GRAIL FORMED

Organization Effected by Chicago Men and Women

PLAN TO CURE WORLD'S ILLS

Back to Spirit of Knighthood is Preachment

(BY ROY GIBBONS)

CHICAGO — (Special) — Modern

civils can be cured—

Only by getting back to the spirit of knighthood which reigned in medieval times!

That's the belief of a group of young men and women here and they've formed an organization called "The Knights of the Holy Grail" to carry out their ideals.

The expressed purpose of the organization is to coax knighthood back into flower.

Members are not required to wear

east-front haberdashery, tilt a spear big as a tree-trunk or ride on a

Chicago streets on the conventional milk-white steed.

But they are required to practice chivalry, develop a spirit of honor and substitute virtue for primitive impulses and passions.

DOUBLE STANDARD DRAGON

The chief dragon the organization will seek to slay on its good sword will be the double standard of morality. No more of that, say the "knights" and their ladies.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Kratzer is director of the organization.

"The spirit of knighthood can save the world from much woe and misery," she says.

"Our organization is growing beyond measure.

"We plan to put manhood and womanhood on the same high moral standard.

"Women will assist in the movement by dropping their abandonment of precedent and cultivating moral restraint. Men must take the knighthood oath to live pure lives and again to elevate woman to her former pedestal.

WOULD SAVE WORLD

"Without virtuous womanhood respected by pure manhood there can be no salvation from the moral perils now threatening to engulf the world."

The "Knights of the Holy Grail" are said to have been a powerful force behind the present investigation of commercialized vice in Chicago.

The commissioner of health requested Mrs. Kratzer to sit in at round-table discussions of the Chicago vice problem.

PROPOSED NATIONAL

DIVORCE LAW OPPOSED

MADISON, Wis. — Marriage and divorce problems of the nation cannot be settled by national legislation.

"The country is too big and conditions vary greatly on this subject;

secondly, an amendment to the constitution or national legislation in this matter cannot change the morals of the people," Dean H. S.

Richards of the law school of the University of Wisconsin said.

A uniform law might not be administered uniformly, he pointed out.

"It might make the definition of divorce uniform, but that would not alter the difficulty the courts meet when there is collusion.

"When people are agreed to a divorce, evidence and grounds are a secondary consideration. Equally, it is impossible to regulate the decisions of the courts. Grounds are sufficient and evidence is valid

when they appear so to the judge and jury, and their loose or strict interpretation of the law is determined by the attitude of that part of the public which forms the community.

"People differ widely in various communities; for instance, in South

Carolina, where divorce is not allowed for any reason, people are almost wholly against divorce; in Nevada, which is notorious for the ease with which a divorce may be secured, people have enacted a broader legislation."

JAPAN SENDS AGENT

AFTER S. A. TRADE

TOKYO — Japan's most skillful trade-developing diplomatist will soon be transferred from London to

Buenos Aires the United Press learned officially today.

Kihel Ota, now Japanese Consul

General at London, will soon be announced as the new Japanese minister to the Argentine, it was officially stated.

This is the latest move in Japan's new policy, recently announced by the United Press, to conduct a vigorous campaign for South American friendship and trade, and to send to South American countries some of the business and most successful figures in the Japanese diplomatic service.

NOT GUILTY, PLEA OF KLAN CHIEF

Answers to Riotous Conspiracy
Charge at Springfield

COURT UNDER STRONG GUARD

Bond of $1,000 Expected to be Furnished

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio—(Associated Press)—W. M. Cortner, 36, Klan leader, pleaded not guilty to a charge of riotous conspiracy and demanded an immediate hearing. Attorneys for the prosecution, however, asked that the case be continued until Tuesday when Cortner's attorneys said they were ready to proceed immediately. The case was continued, after the attorneys had agreed to post Cortner's bond at $1,000. It will be furnished.

Cortner was arrested here Wednesday night when police raided the headquarters of the Klan in Clark-st. while the organization was in full session. Fourteen men besides Cortner were in the room at the time but they were allowed to go after police had taken their names.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN
A large number assembled in the police court to attend the hearing, but there was no demonstration. Additional precautions were stationed at each door of the court room and several were placed in the hall outside to prevent possible outbreaks of feeling on the part of the crowd.

Cortner was attended by several attorneys when he appeared in court. Among them were J. Fred Anderson, his local counsel and W. M. Cortner, Jr., his brother. Judge Marsh of Indianapolis, who refused to divulge his initials.

Altho bond for Cortner was not furnished immediately, his attorneys said there would be no trouble in obtaining surety. It is planned to have about 20 of the most prominent known members of the Klan sign the $1,000 bond.

It is expected that the entire force of the national organization of the Klan will be thrown into the fight to release Cortner and free him of the charge. The raid staged here was the first ever made against the Klan in the United States. It is claimed by Cortner and his attorneys that the raid came as the result of certain persons' desire to get possession of the records and reveal the organization in a dry-stamp out.

FUNERAL OF INFANT

Funeral services for Robert Eugene Carols, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Carols, 1224 S. Besides the parents, three sisters and five brothers survive.

Speaks Highly of This Home Made Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—
Loosens the Mucus—Relieves the Irritation and Stops the Cough

Costs Next to Nothing—for a Big Supply

Whenever anyone in my family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze, and haw and breathe heavy, it doesn't take me many minutes to fix up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time.

It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Peppermint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it.

But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—that first teaspoonful you take acts directly on the membrane of the throat and nose, the itching ceases almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours every trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.

It's really remarkable how this home made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of catarrh sufferers.—Adv.

BOY THROWN BY CAR IS BUT SLIGHTLY INJURED

What might have been a serious accident, but which ended without severe injuries, was reported to police Friday morning.

Donald Kephart, 6, of 1126 W. Wayne-st., is reported to have attempted to grab the hand rail on the rear of a city car as it was moving on W. Wayne-st. and was thrown to the pavement.

The lad was able to continue on his way to school, after being reprieved for attempting to board a moving car.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from ointure or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this mentho-sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

future prospect plans, completed organizations that will take care of the detail of the movement.

Two separate meetings were held, each necessary to the other in its ultimate action. The executive committee of the Board of Commerce named H. E. Simonton, R. B. Dunn and W. J. Fitzgerald as a committee to lease a site and plan the erection of an exposition building.

The body named is already conferring with owners of real estate in locations considered desirable, as near as possible to the heart of the downtown section.

Men representing the Pageant of Progress association, meeting Thursday night, elected Lynn B. Timmerman temporary chairman and Robert E. Ashley temporary secretary. The temporary board of directors comprises H. E. Simonton, Harry Kruger, R. B. Gregg, Mark Kolter, with Lynn B. Timmerman as chairman.

Plans were laid for incorporating the project, under the laws of Ohio. A mass meeting of citizens interested in the future of Lima has been called to be held in the Board of Commerce rooms the night of February 23, when it is expected that a permanent organization will be effected, officers elected and constitution and by-laws outlined.

VERDICT FREES WHITTY

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

JUST READ THIS

If You Are Afraid of Smallpox or a Mad Dog Then You Should Be Afraid of the Cold Germ. Sanitary Rules to Be Observed to Prevent Relapse and Right Colds.

SOME IMPORTANT DON'TS
Don't sit or work in an overheated room. Don't step out into the night air without your hat on or a coat or wrap over your shoulders. Don't allow your feet to become wet, numb and cold.

Don't go out if you are feeling ill. Keep your mouth and nostrils covered when you are near any person who is coughing or sneezing as cold germs are being sprayed like bullets from a machine gun.

DANGEROUS TO LIFE

Thousands of lives can be saved and much sickness prevented if the common cold is to be as much feared as smallpox or a mad dog.

Colds, no matter how mild they appear should never be allowed to drift down into the chest and lungs. Influenza or Pneumonia, exceedingly dangerous to life often develop from neglected colds.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

Flush the waste poisons from the intestines and bowels.

Keep the liver and kidneys active. Drink plenty of pure water, at least eight glasses daily.

Stimulate the circulation, warm up the chilled, stagnant blood. Upon the first sign of a cold one of the best things you can do is to take a course of hot medicinal herb tea as this helps to increase the circulation and aids in flushing the bowels.

One of the best known remedies for the relief of colds is Bulgarian Herb Tea, famous all over the world for its powerful medicinal properties.

Bulgarian Herb Tea should be in every home in the land as a first aid to relieve and help break up colds. Its gentle tonic and laxative qualities help nature to flush the poisons from the bowels, stimulate the circulation, and aid materially to strengthen your physical resistance.

See your druggist at once and get a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Yourself or some member of the family may need it to quickly relieve a cold during the winter.—Adv.

FOURTEEN members of the Hereaux Temps club enjoyed a "kid party" at the home of Mrs. J. R. Bloomfield, S. Nye-st, Thursday evening. There were fourteen clever costumes. Each one tried to appear more "kiddish" than the other. Children's games and contests were arranged and favors were given in the form of red hearts and cupid. Later, Mrs. Bloomfield invited the guests into the dining room, where the guests were seated at a most attractive table. A huge centerpiece of red carnations graced the table, at each end of which were red candles tied with white tulle.

Guests of Mrs. Bloomfield were: Mesdames Carl Quist, R. G. Kubin, R. R. Moorman, O. G. Place, Carl Kommink, John Jewhurst, J. E. Smith, Foster Baker, Donald Sullivan, O. J. Newman, John Sonnenfeld, Harry Whitaker and Harry Baldwin.

Next meeting of the club will be on Thursday, with Mrs. Donald Sullivan, W. Spring-st.

Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school, Delphos, will meet in the church Friday evening at 7:30.

Mission society of the Presbyterian church, Delphos, hold a social in the community rooms of the church Friday afternoon. Refreshments were served.

Junior Christian Endeavors of the Presbyterian church, Delphos, will be given a Valentine party, Friday evening.

Mrs. Charles Rupert, S. Franklin-st, Delphos, entertained the United Brethren Ladies Aid society Friday afternoon.

Mrs. G. B. Strahlem, W. Third-st, Delphos, entertained members of the Sitch-a-wee club Thursday afternoon at her home.

A short business meeting was held in which it was decided to entertain the husbands and children of the members Wednesday evening, February 21, at the home of Mrs. Roy Taylor, E. Second-st.

After the business meeting the afternoon was devoted to sewing. A contest, which Mrs. May Taylor, was unsuccessful and Mrs. J. P. Waidman was crowned.

George Washington favors were given and appointments of the luncheon were suggestions of Washington's Birthday.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Miss Celestine Lovette, N. Main-st, Wednesday evening for a birthday and Valentine party. It was Miss Lovette's birthday anniversary and she was the recipient of many gifts. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing and at a late hour, refreshments were served.

Those present were: Misses Pauline Jenner, Alicea Ellen, Ruth Leichliter, Mildred, Mildred and Genevieve Oen and Bernice Bruns. Messrs. Robert Fluido, Russell Hoover, Marvel Zapp, Carroll LeValley, Vincent Wannamaker, Emmett Shilling, Orville Whinglor and Cleo Girker.

Mrs. Harry Smith held high score and Mrs. A. Jennings second high, when Mrs. Charles Richards entertained the members of the Hon. Trumpet Euchre club, Thursday afternoon. Following the play, the hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon. Mrs. Herbert O. Parrish, Hazel-av, will entertain the club in two weeks.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I READ in last night's paper what "Thank You" wrote, and I see she is falling in love with a man who has married twice. I thought I could not trust another man when I let my heart go to a man who has married twice. I am sure that if I had a husband, he is good to me and gives me all the money I want and I trust him. People come and tell me things about him, but I laugh at them. I know he is true to me and to his family. So if "Thank You" wants to come home, let her put her faith in her husband and trust him. Miss Smart, my hair is falling out so badly. Can you please tell me something to do for it? Thanking you, I am,
A HAPPY HOUSEWIFE.

I HAVE published your fine letter because I want "Thank You" and every other married woman who is inclined to be the least bit jealous to read it. You should consult a scalp specialist or go to any up-to-date beauty parlor. Hot oil treatments some of them give are very good for falling hair.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am coming to you for a little advice, as you seem to have helped lots of others.

(1) I went with a young man for five months and he said he loved me; he asked me to go with him "steady," so I went. At any rate, I told him to him and about a week before Christmas, he stopped going with me. It almost broke my heart. Then, at Christmas, he bought me a lovely present. He said "I am right in accepting it." (2) There have been several boys who have asked me to go out with them. Should I go? I live with my aunt and she says she should think I could wait until Spring and see if Ralph comes back.

(3) Ralph was not working for about two weeks after he quit me. He called me up twice a day for a week and then the next week I called him up in the evening. He said that I did the better thing. Please advise me what to do. HEARTBROKEN.

You do seem to have a problem. Even though you do love Ralph, I don't believe I would give all of my other friends up, on account of him. Have you asked Ralph for an explanation of his sudden change toward you? I don't understand one thing—you say he "quit" you, but that he called you up twice a day? Are you calling him, I should not have done that—don't run after boys.

My advice is, Heartbroken, that you go out with the boys who ask you; have a good time and forget Ralph for the present. If he does come back in the spring, and if you love him and he loves you, then there is plenty of time for you to go about with him.

LONESOME MEN AND WOMEN:
Do you want to form a club? If you do send in your name and address. If you don't, write me and tell me why you do not like the club.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

FRIDAY EVENING

N. B. O. G. club, Mrs. Marie Sweeney.

SATURDAY

Needlecraft, Mrs. Paul Landis, afternoon.

Home Quartet, Trinity M. E. church, 2:30 o'clock.

E. A. Evans and family, W. North-st, have returned from Cleveland, where they attended the 29th annual convention of Ohio Hard-ware Merchants' Association.

An enjoyable social afternoon was spent Thursday when Mrs. W. A. Gillet entertained the members of the Ideal club. Music, games and contests were enjoyed by those present and at five o'clock, the hostess served tea, assisted by her houseguests, Mrs. Calvin Pomroy and Mr. Geo. Knaube. Guests other than the club members were: Mr. Chas. Ling, Cincinnati, Mrs. A. H. Beecher, Mrs. Calvin Pomroy, Alliance and Mrs. Geo. Knaube, Cleveland.

Mrs. A. R. Manhard, 211 S. West-st, will entertain the club in two weeks.

Ladies club was welcomed by Mrs. Rex Maynard, to her home on West High-st, Wednesday afternoon. Roll call was answered with current events and contests were held. In the contest, Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. Ora Green were successful. Later in the afternoon, Mrs. Maynard served delicious refreshments, giving little heart-shaped baskets to the guests as favors. Mrs. Ross Moon was the only guest.

Next meeting will be held with Mrs. H. B. Tolle, W. Elm-st.

Dramatic club was organized by the members of the C. D. of A., Delphos, Thursday evening. This club will plan an entertainment after Easter to be given for the members of the Catholic Daughters of America.

About twelve have already signed. Those who were not to the meeting and wish to join can notify Mrs. Mary Burger.

Two splendid papers were given Thursday at the meeting of the Shakespeare club. Mrs. Pats Zantman gave a very well prepared talk on "The Israelites Prior to the Exodus" and Mrs. M. D. Owen spoke on "Moses, the Champion of the Oppressed." Because of the illness of several members of the cast, the reading of Act I of "The Israelites," to which all members were looking forward to, with a great deal of interest, has been postponed until the next meeting in two weeks.

Mrs. John M. Boose held high score among the guests Thursday when Mrs. E. L. Kirk entertained members of the Thursday Luncheon Bridge club at the Lima club. The luncheon table was particularly attractive in its appointments of colorful and guests. Floral decorations, place cards and nut cups carried out the color scheme.

Mrs. Harry Macdonald will entertain the club in two weeks, at her home, in W. Spring-st.

Mrs. C. S. Baxter, W. Market-st, president of the Woman's Music club, very charmingly entertained the active members of the club, at her home, Thursday afternoon. During the short business meeting six new members of the executive board were elected. They are: Mrs. A. J. White, Mrs. C. A. Black, Mrs. E. A. Siferd, Mrs. P. D. Gooding, Mrs. F. E. Marshall and Mrs. R. G. Woods. Plans were completed for the singing of Miss Evelyn Woods, of Toledo, here on February 24th, to appear under the auspices of the Music club. Following the business session, Mrs. Baxter served tea.

Mrs. Fred Johnson, Aberdeen-av, entertained members of the N. A. C. club at her home, Thursday. The evening was spent sociably and at a late hour, refreshments were served.

Members of the Needlecraft club will be entertained by Mrs. Paul T. Landis, 1561 W. High-st, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Doyle Beery, Eldorado, Kansas, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foley, N. Park-av.

Mrs. J. E. Grosjean and Mrs. Frank Moore were hostesses at a 5 o'clock tea, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Maile, W. Market-st. Old fashioned flowers graced the center of each of the two tables, at which the guests were seated.

Mrs. and Mrs. Noah Widner, Franklin-st, entertained a group of young people with a birthday party, honoring Bobby Burden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Burden, Gallatin, house-guests of the Widners. Games and contests were enjoyed by the guests throughout the evening and later the guests were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. The table was decorated in red and white and the place cards and nut cups were suggestive of Valentine's Day.

Guests were: Ray Roebuck, Warren Widner, Virel Widner, Welby Widner, Zula Roebuck, Walter Van Oss, Ruth Roebuck, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Widner, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Burden, Mr. and Mrs. L. Roebuck, Mrs. Mary Burden and Mrs. Dora Burden.

Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Durbin, W. Elm-st, entertained the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Elvira Hundred club and their husbands at a 6:30 o'clock dinner. Valentine decorations were used on the long table at which the guests were seated, each one finding at their places a Valentine, which, in most cases were characteristic. In the five hundred games that followed, Mr. and Mrs. Durbin held high score and Mrs. Thomas Rittenour and W. L. Allgire, low.

Guests other than the club members were: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Allgire, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rittenour and Mr. F. W. Woodruff, Boston.

Miss Marie Sweeney will entertain the members of the N. B. O. G. club, Friday evening, at her home, 1010 Leland-av.

LUTHERANS TO MEET

Members of the Lutheran churches will meet Friday night at Bethany church for reports on "Stewardship," a campaign for which was recently begun in the Ohio Synod. Harry Gerhardt, of Springfield, layman, will speak. Representatives will be present from Wapakoneta, Ayn Worth, Middletown, Leavittville, Elida, Conroy and Ohio City.

VAL OF PARADISE

By VINGIE E. ROE

"Val," murmured Velantrie and said no more.

"Velantrie!" screamed the girl, unconscious of the staring crowd.

"Oh, Donald!"

Then her father's hand was on her shoulder, lifting her bodily, a dozen other hands pulled the man away from her, and in the hurry that followed she found herself swung helplessly into her saddle, the reins put in her fingers.

"Hill," said John Hannon beside her, and she rode—but the earth and the heavens tumbled about her head twice in the silent journey, when he did not deign to look back where danger certainly lurked in that bunch of men who followed Velantrie, the Rose of Paradise had to steady his daughter in her saddle.

Not one word did he ask her, then, or after, about the whole affair, but put her in her own bed with his own hands and bade the women leave her alone, saying that she had had a turn and would be better soon.

CHAPTER XIX

The Black Riders

But the boss was mistaken. Val was not better soon. For three days she lay in her bed in the deep south room and scarcely knew day from darkness. Belle was terribly distressed and begged both her and John for explanation, but from the one she got only moans and silence, from the other the brisk assurance that something must have happened to one of her girl's friends in Leandra to upset her.

Thru Val's poor brain there wound a tumbling train of thoughts, any one of which was cause for despair. But she was young and magnificently healthy—and she had the courage of her father's blood. Therefore she rose and came forth to confront the household with haggard eyes and cheeks that had thinned overnight, it seemed—to find the riders tense and silent, her mother and with the old loneliness, for the boss was gone again. Once more had the far country called him and he had answered—answered on the hour, with his eagle eyes alight, his nostrils flaring.

And then Val came to Briston where he smoked alone in the patio under the stars and put a hand upon his shoulder. He dropped his cigar and reached up to take the hand in his, to hold it between his two big palms in the comforting silence of perfect understanding.

And Val, heavy-eyed with tears, sank down on the bench beside him and put her forehead where the hand had been. More than one soft head had laid on Briston's shoulders in the many years of his roving, but none that so pulled at his heart as this drooping black one.

Therefore he sat still and waited as the perfect friend waits. Presently, with a sigh, the girl said, "Tom."

"Yes, Val."

"Will you—can you—find out—"

"Don't need to find out. Perly was in town a day or two 'ck-an' they said at Hunsenwell's that his men picked him up an' took him out, swingin' across the horse of his with a man to help him ride, an' that he was comin' round then Old Doc Tackert happened to be there that day an' he looked him over before they left an' said he was not seriously hurt."

"Dios gracias!" whispered Val against his shoulder and Briston felt the whole tightening of her body, the seeming of new life and strength that tingled in her at his blessed words. She straightened up and pressed his hand and a great breath fluttered on her lips, a sigh of such relief as only words of life can bring. Thus love served its own in Briston's heart and made him glad at her joy.

So the rangland drowsed. The

"SHOOT HIM—TOM, STRAIGHT IN—IN—IN THE—FOREHEAD—FOR ME!"

Indian Summer passed and the first breath of frost came down upon the land, turning its spruce green to brown. The fall round-up loomed on the horizon—and the boss was still away.

Val was her old self, busy, efficient, save for a new gravity, a strong repression that was with her always. She went often to Refugio, hoping against hope for word of Velantrie, but Father Hillaire was helpless to give it her. The oblivion of the Border had swallowed him at last, and deep in his wise old heart the priest hoped that it would keep him. Dear as the boy was to him, the girl was dearer.

And far in the Blind Trail Hills poor Redstar ran his endless circle, called at the twilights, tore at the saplings and ate out his heart while far across the miles his beloved answered that unheard cry.

One by one the days went by and nothing new stirred in the cattle country. It was hard on driving time and Briston was wishing fervently for the boss.

The boys were overhauling the chuck-wagon, looking to saddles and ropes. The feeling of fall was in the air.

And then came a night, soft and dark with many stars in the early hours and with promise of a great white moon very late.

It was one of the few nights left in the lap of summer from which the warmth was spilling fast, and Val swung in the tinged hammock and talked in a low voice with the men. Briston smoked on his accustomed bench. Sift and Rosy lounged on the hard dry earth, their skin young figures relaxed, while Dirk and Perly sharga another hammock nearer to Bluewater.

Out by the bunk-house one of the vaqueros strummed on old guitar and sang a Spanish love-song in a voice like a harp. At a window of the darkened kitchen Fanta listened. Inside the adobe house Belle Hannon, to whom all night was day, all day night, played softly her plaintive tunes. Never in her life could Val bear to hear such music in the dark.

She talked in broken sentences with Briston, looking up at the stars. A thousand things moulded thru her mind and she gave them voice, secure in the loving friendship that encompassed her.

"Tom," she said, "I asked dad once what constituted a good man—and he said 'a brave one, quick on the trigger.' What would you say?"

The foreman smoked silently a while. Then he knocked the ash from his cigar.

"A good man, Val," he said, "is the man who deals squarely by his fellows an' has such honest love of humanity in his heart that he can help th' helpless, even at risk of his neck—such love for one woman that he can serve her all his life, either rewarded or unrewarded—a man who can sacrifice."

What gentle intent was in the speaker's mind only die knew, and he said no more. But Val had instant food for thought—as perhaps he had intended.

And then, sudden as a shot in the silence, came the voice of Perly from the other hammock.

"Tom," it cried sharply, "look there! An' there—an' yonder!"

With a spring the boy was on his feet, a slim shape, straight in the dusk.

"Good God!" he cried again, "th' signal-fires! Boys—th' Rustler rides tonight!"

Without another word he flung himself from the patio and they heard the sound of his running feet as he went toward the corral Tru enough. From down at the south line there rose on the still dark a tall pillar of flame that was already answered from the southwest and the west.

Tom Briston stood tense, reading their messages.

"Raid," the one fire said, "at the dying Y."

He turned and looked west.

"We circle south," three red flares said.

Southeast two signals placed far apart told the rangland, "We ride north," and beside the tall fire at the south two small ones close together bore Clendenning's faithful message.

"We'll close in on the Blind Trail pass from the south."

Thus was a net formed, a trap laid, and anything driving within its circle had but one fate for the pass—for the horses of the plains would soon be out. And they were hard to beat, those horses that had run at Santa Leanda. Dollar, the gallant gray with the dapples on its flowing, black and wild—and all of Hannon's Red Brood that stampted in the home corral—for the ranchers were pledged to this and all must so.

With one accord the cowboys followed Perly, shouting, snatching spur and bridle as they ran—the guitar out at the bunk-house ceased its strumming, stopped by a flattening hand on its strings—the vaqueros ran to the horses, too.

Only Briston was left for a moment standing in the patio. A gasp caught his ear—a deep, short breath that seemed to come from drowning lungs—and Val Hannon stood beside him, away on her feet like a drunkard.

"Tom," she gasped, still as if she could not breathe, "Tom—my friend—"

Briston caught her tightly in the bend of his arm and looked into her face that shone white in the dark like a moon in fog.

"Yes, Val darling," he said, "it's—Assin that awful gasping breath."

The girl gripped her hands, steadied her swaying body with the old sweet strength. Ten the words came a bit more strongly.

"If they catch the—Black Rustler—this—light—don't—let—them—the—Crag Oak—"

She wet her lips that were stiff and cold—reached out a groping hand and touched the gun that at ways hung at the foreman's belt.

"Shoot—him, Tom," she said thickly, "straight—ah—it was a sighing breath—" in—the—fore head—for me!"

"I will," said Briston and was gone.

CHAPTER XX

"Greater Love Hath No Man"

Tragedy breathed upon the rangland. Failure, failure felt it, pain in his dry garden.

Belle Hannon felt it and ceased her plaintive playing. She came, sure of foot in the darkness, to the east door that opened into the patio.

"Val!" she called.

CALUMET BISCUITS

4 cups of sifted pastry flour
4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 level teaspoon of salt
2 rounding tablespoons of butter or lard
1/2 cup of milk

Sift flour once, then measure, add salt and baking powder and sift three times, rub shortening in with fork or spoon, add milk and water, turn out on a well floured board and roll one inch thick, cut and bake in a quick oven about 12 to 15 minutes.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounces instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

DEMPSEY UP AGAINST SAME SITUATION AS JEFFRIES

NEW YORK — As long as government, boxing commissions and a large part of the public persist in the belief that his case is one of only trivial importance, Jack Dempsey might just as well retire from the ring. There is little else for him to do right now.

Just now Dempsey is up against the same thing that caused Jim Jeffries to go into retirement, only that Jeff didn't have any opponents to keep him busy and there is something wrong with the few that Dempsey has in his division. With the exception of John Johnson, who is too young, Gibbons is too light and Willis is too dark.

Dempsey will not weep at the unkind fates that keep him from getting into the ring, however. Perhaps he considers himself fortunate. So long as he stays away from an arena he will retain his title and if he keeps away from his profession long enough, parts of the public might forget that he is the champion prizefighter.

The champion, who is now a wealthy man, is not keen any more about the company that he was once associated with in the ring. He would much rather be known as a young business man. When he returned recently from California many of his old cronies found that Jack was cooling on them and many of his staunchest supporters in the early days when he didn't have anything and needed everything are waiting that he is giving them the Ritz now.

Dempsey really thinks now that he is an actor and, if he can't pick up a million for an afternoon's work in the ring, he will confine his work to the movie, where the pay is almost as good.

There were no movies in the old days. When a champion got too good he had to go into the saloon business. In these days of opportunities, however, Dempsey can find enough wherever he places his hands.

Bennett Leonard, the lightweight champion, is another prominent actor among the pugilistic prominent, but he had a lot of experience around the country when he was a member of the popular dancing act of Leonard and Dundee.

Only one other act was more popular and had a longer run and that was Britton and Lewis.

Danny Frush who helped Johnny Kilbane demonstrate his new knee punch in Cleveland several years ago, is back in England and is seeking a bout with the British lightweight champion.

Danny wasn't regarded as a wonder among the featherweights in this country and he probably didn't regard anything as wonderful over here.

Frush was knocked out by Johnny Dundee in his last fight here and a few minutes after Johnny had tapped him on the chin, his manager laid him flat with another tap administered in the dressing room. Fighting managers are not always so good.

RICHARDS EXPLAINS DEFEAT BY AUSTRALIAN STARS

PAT WOOD

By VINCENT RICHARDS
Famous Tennis Star

Perhaps the big surprise of the Davis Cup matches last year was the defeat of Bill Tilden and myself in the doubles.

There will always be many different versions of why the United States Davis Cup team was defeated in the doubles by the Australians, Pat O'Hara Wood and Gerald L. Patterson.

Following the staging of this important match at Forest Hills, the newspaper editors took a full out of both Tilden and myself, the American standard bearers, some placing the blame on "Big Bill," while others were certain that it was I who faltered badly.

Tilden and I both admit that we played below our regular form against the foreign invaders, but we also agree that too much praise cannot be rendered Patterson and Wood for the sensational exhibition they displayed at every interval of the fierce struggle.

AUSTRALIANS GOT THE JUMP

They managed to get the jump on us from the outset. They took us by surprise. We underestimated their remarkable ability.

Employing what is known as the English formation, the Australians threw a jargonized monkey-wrench into our proverbial mechanism.

This variety of a game provides for one man at the net and the other in mid-court. Against us, Wood was the net partner, and the way this super-player cut off our well-meant shots in the first set was most discouraging. The remarkable playing of Wood was the real reason for our defeat. He was simply invincible.

Tilden and I were unable to reach the net, the place where we usually met in our deadly work. Let me say right here that a doubles team will be beaten on an average of nine times out of ten unless one of the partners can excel in performing at the net.

STRAIN IN MATCH PLAY

On being interviewed by one of the leading sport writers of the country the day following the defeat at the hands of the players from Australia the first question he fired at me was "I experienced a spell of nervousness during the historic encounter."

This prompted me to inquire if my actions betrayed that I was laboring under a strain, to which he replied in the negative.

In answering my questioner I made it as plain as I could that there was always a nervous strain attached to the participants in important tournaments.

No one dare deny this. If he has ever experienced the sensation of a grueling battle against an opponent, or opponents, who are alive to every opportunity.

As to my being nervous in the Davis Cup games I can only say that I felt the same in these conflicts as I did in other important engagements.

Naturally "Big Bill" and I are anxious to get another crack at Wood and Patterson. Of course, much depends upon Tilden's finger, but we are nourishing the hope that we will bring the doubles championship back to the United States next summer.

CENTRAL-SOUTH SET FOR CAGE CLASH

(BY MERRICK M. HILL)

There is no question but that the Second South-Central cage clash Friday night is arousing the greatest enthusiasm of the season.

Central, with a victory over the Blue and Gold Tigers to its credit, is aiming to repeat and clinch the cage title for 1933—and what is more important, to wipe out the sting of defeat at College field last Thanksgiving Day.

South, playing on its own floor, and in perfect trim for the game, expects to even the series and to send the battle for city honors into a tie.

The past week has meant but one thing to the basket shooters of both schools; that is, hard work. Every afternoon and evening the squads have been on the floor. South has devoted considerable time to shooting baskets, and the training for the week has been intended to instill pep into the quietest.

Central, with two accurate tossers, who are extremely weak on defense and with the entire team liable to forget their training once they get on the floor, has been building up team work. The short pass game, which has been taught by Coach Thibault, has been effective, but the Red and Green aggregation has been prone to revert to primitive basketball during the heat of the conflict.

While neither coach will make a statement, it is more than likely that each team will present a new lineup at Friday night's game.

M'GRAW MAKES DRASTIC MOVE

NEW YORK — Hold-outs have created such a serious situation among the world's champion Giants that John McGraw has been forced to do something he hasn't done in 20 years.

Notices were in the mails today to all Giants who have not signed contracts that they will not be allowed to report at Marlin Springs or at San Antonio until they have put their names at the bottom of the paper.

This is considered a most drastic move from a club of the liberal policy of the Giants. In the past, McGraw has always allowed the players who were dissatisfied with the club's offer to report to the training camp and talk it over.

The threat, however, may fall in its purpose. The only reply the club received from the ultimatum was from Jack Bentley the $65,000 Baltimore beauty. The Giants told him he couldn't report until he had signed and he answered that he hadn't intended to report and thanked them for their trouble.

There are three exceptions in the edict—George Kelley, Irish Meusel, and Casey Stengel, who were with the barnstormers on the trip to the Orient. They will be obliged to work for two weeks at the camp and show that the trip didn't hurt them before they will be offered a contract.

While Frisch, Gurn and Young are the only regular Giants on paper the situation is almost as bad with the Yanks. Babe Ruth and Carl Mays are working under hold-over contracts and Everett Scott is the only player who has signed a new contract. Willie Schang, "came to terms" but he did not sign.

Action of the Giants and a previous announcement of the Brooklyn club to the same effect indicates that in the National league at least, the club owners may have decided on this policy of bringing their athletes to time.

DELPHOS ST. JOHNS TAKES TOURNEY

(BY EARL J. FISHER)

Taking hard-fought games from Spencerville and Lafayette and an easy one from Botkins, St. John's high cage quintet of Delphos Thursday won the 1933 tournament at Spencerville and earned a leg-up on the three-year cup donated by the Spencerville board of education. Games were played in Co. K. armory.

Three teams have each earned a one-year claim to the cup—Lima Central in 1926, Rockford in 1921 and Delphos St. John's in 1922. There was no tournament in 1922. To secure permanent possession a team must win the cup three years.

Eight teams participated in the tourney — two less than expected Mendon and Celina did not show up.

The semi-finals and finals developed some of the most intense cage struggles ever staged in these parts. St. John's did not have easy sailing by any means. They were threatened time after time by Spencerville and Lafayette to have their narrow margins wiped out.

The Delphos aggregation easily defeated Botkins in the morning 76 to 10. In the afternoon they routed out Spencerville 33 to 25 and in the evening defeated Lafayette 35 to 24.

Elimination round was lamo with the exception of a game between Lafayette and St. Mary's. The latter almost put Lafayette out of the running, but nevertheless lost by the close margin of 27 to 26.

Spencerville, Delphos, Gomer and Lafayette earned their way to the semi-final round, the local lads defeating Nottawa 65 to 9. Delphos trimming Botkins 76 to 10, Lafayette nosing out St. Mary's 27 to 26 and Gomer trouncing Grover Hill 39 to 25.

After leading 20 to 6 at the end of the first half in the semi-finals, St. John's almost had the margin wiped out when Spencerville began regaining the ball in rapid succession. Towns sent starved in Spencerville's sensational rally. His accurate shooting brought the score to 20-14. Shibley found the range soon after and Delphos was soon out of danger. Spencerville scored 19 points in the second to 13 for Delphos.

Stollner detached work of the Delphos guards featured in this encounter. Davey and L. Uim repeatedly broke up their opponents' rushes. The game was the fastest of the tournament. The local lads fought with desperation, but it was clean fighting with exception of a few instances. Delphos had only built dozen personal fouls throughout the day.

HULLBARGER STARS

Issue of the other semi-final game, Lafayette vs Gomer, did not remain long in doubt after Hullbarger, star forward for the former, got his long distance artillery in action. He shot five baskets from the center of the court and played the entire floor. The first half ended 8 to 5 in favor of Lafayette. Lafayette scored 18 points in the second frame against 12 for Gomer.

In the cup round long range shooting of Hullbarger again came into play, but it was offset by the floor generalship of Delphos. St. John's had the most difficult basket in the second frame, one that is fronted by a large rider, but the Blue and Gold shotaciously and was able to make 14 points in the frame against 16 for Lafayette. ST. ROSE READY FOR CLASH

After being away from home for three weeks, St. Rose will perform on its own floor Friday night, with Toledo Cathedral as the opposing outfit.

The Toledoans are anxious to win the clash, as they have defeated some of the strongest aggregations in the state, and the St. Rose victory over them, secured several weeks ago, is a serious blot on their record.

The Rosarians have been working up several new formations, which will be put into use for the first time Friday night and Coach Baker's proteges are confident that they will be able to hold the visitors to a small score, while Wells and Kneenan pile up baskets for the locals.

One of the biggest crowds of the year is expected, to witness the fray.

Chicago Legion Want Boxing

CHICAGO—Officials at various Chicago American Legion posts planned to seek an injunction today to prevent Charles C. Fitzmaurice, chief of police, from enforcing his order clamping on boxing hall here.

Several boxing contests between nationally known pugilists had been announced or were being negotiated for, but not proceed for the benefit of former soldiers when Chief Fitzmaurice yesterday ordered the police to halt all bouts after Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order League called the attention of William Hale Thompson, mayor, to the exhibition.

The state law prohibits prize fighting where contests would be open to the public and an admission fee charged. The injunction consists during the past fall and winter have been under the guise of "club entertainments" and although some of the best known boxers have been engaged with the "safe" running as high as $5,000 to $10,000, there has been no violation of the public and the law was designated in newspaper as "clubman club."

RUTH ON WAY TO HOT SPRINGS TO FINISH REDUCING

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — On his way to become another buster or bust for good, Babe Ruth headed out of New York's free breezes and took off for Hot Springs.

He was the lone traveler of the boys who failed to register a victory in the last world's series, but he will be joined at the resort by Everett Ruess, Carl Mays, Willie Schang, Bob Swackey and Mike McNally, who will start today from their homes.

Ruth took his first shots at the home run allies of the New Yankee stadium yesterday and he failed to do anything more than send a couple of liners bounding over the suet drifts. Once he struck out.

Accompanied by seven scries he went out to the stadium, got out of a fur overcoat and swung a bat at the delivery of one of the scries.

The Babe explained this failure to connect as being the business of some tumidity on his part. He didn't want to kill the scries with an uncontrolled drive thru the box and he didn't want to flirt with a stashed side by swinging too hard and—mug.

The sweet king registered approval of the right field stands and he enthused over the possibility for inside homers in deep center field.

Ruth explained before leaving that he did not intend to do any work with a baseball until he arrives at the real training camp in New Orleans.

At Hot Springs, he intends to take baths, drink water, play golf, hike thru the hills and do a lot of hand ball playing. He wants to get as much weight as he can before he starts tuning his swing and eye.

"I'll be reduced enough when I get to New Orleans to jump right into baseball without being forced to spend a lot of time getting in shape. I feel as now as far as that is concerned," he said. "But I can still afford to work off about 15 to 20 pounds."

Ruth looks fine. His eye is clear good. Babe Ruth headed out of New York's free breezes and took off for Hot Springs.

HOPPE HATES TO MAKE SPEECH

Running 100 or more means nothing in the life of Billiard Champion Hoppe.

Facing the most difficult shot on the table doesn't get much of a rise out of the champ.

Meeting the world's greatest billiard players for the championship is just a day's work for Hoppe.

What took then puts the nerve of Hoppe to a supreme test?

Hoppe frankly admits that it is being called upon to make a speech, to take the job in the world is to talk billiards or anything else. That is one reason why I always carry Charley Peterson as my partner. Talk is his first name. I merely do the bowing while Charley carries on the conversation for both of us.

FIGHT RESULTS

YOUNGSTOWN — Pete Latzo, Sranton lightweight, won decision over Johnny Carr, Cleveland welterweight in twelve rounds.

LONDON — Roland Todd defeated Ted "Kid" Lewis on points in 20 rounds, regaining middleweight championship and the Lonsdale belt.

BOSTON — William "Sailor" Friedman, Chicago lightweight, won ten round decision over Willie Harmon, Boston.

LOCALS BOWL INTO MONEY

TOLEDO—Dayton, Cleveland, Columbus and Elvira bowlers will occupy the alleys in the Ohio State Bowling tournament here tonight.

Competition in the doubles and singles divisions will be resumed this afternoon with Lima and Toledo bowlers participating.

Last night's bowling caused a big shakup in the standings in the five-man division. The Kerscher Elevators of Toledo, with Larry Gazzola as anchor man, shot into second place with a score of 2852. Toledo Steel Products took fourth place with a score of 2785 and Metrick Brothers of Toledo with a score of 2783 occupied fifth place. The L.M. Elks bowled their way into seventh position in this division with a total of 2780 plus.

There was no change in the standings in the doubles and singles divisions.

The revised standings in the five-man division follows:
Joherty Motors, Toledo, 2909.
Kerscher Elevators, Toledo, 2852.
Pulley Brush, Toledo, 2795.
Toledo Steel Products, Toledo, 2785.
Metrick Brothers, Toledo, 2783.

MURCHISON TO STOP RUNNING

(BY JACKSON V. SCHOLZ)

NEW YORK—(United Press)—Loren Murchison has made the unofficial announcement that he is about ready to forego the life of speed and settle down to an ordinary existence, but nobody takes him seriously.

Murchison is perfectly sincere and no doubt expects this to be his last year in competition, but such things simply are not done even with the best intentions in the world. He admits he has never running better in his life and in view of such a statement his decision to hang up his shoes is all the more commendable and if he is able to carry thru such a program, it will be an event which will go down in history no less than his remarkable performance in establishing a new world's indoor record in the 60-yard dash.

All great athletes have an unhealthy and quite natural fear of getting beaten and of reaching that point where the announcement of their name no longer inspires a ripple of interest and anticipation in the grand stands. With this in mind, it is always their vow to get out and stay out while they are still on top of the heap. But they don't.

"I've had enough," Murchison said. "The game is losing its kick. I'll admit that I want to get out before I begin to get beaten regularly, but training also takes lots of time from my work. I'm traveling most of the time and it's not as if I was living in my own house and sleeping in my own bed every night. I doubt if I'll even try for the next Olympics."

Even obstinate, unruly or shampoed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Greaseless, stainless "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair, because it is absorbed by the scalp. Therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. —ADV.

—BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM—

Keith Vaudeville at the Faurot

A PROGRAM of mediocrity is being offered at the Faurot for the week-end attraction, consisting of five acts of Keith vaudeville. Of course opinions may differ but to my notion, the bill is a little below par considering the high standard of acts that have been offered lately. However, we can't have the best all the time.

Gladys Greene offers several terpsichorean exhibitions assisted by Grace and Harry Keesler. Mr. Keesler possesses a good voice but Miss Greene is a bit too heavy to be a graceful toe dancer. There is a variety of specially staged and elaborate numbers, and we have our doubts about the canary bird.

Carl Byal and Dora Early under several exclusive songs. Miss Early could run Charlotte Greenwood a close race as far as agility is concerned. She has a pleasing personality and she gives an impersonation that is the funniest we have seen for a long time.

Maxon and Brown offer a clever act to that isn't very new but its about prohibition, which is a subject that always pleases audiences. Both lack personality, an asset greatly needed in the comedy line. "Their First Quarrel" is the title offering by Billy Du Val and Merle Symonds. It is a breezy and captivating act and Mr. Du Val is really a comedian. Interpolated in the sketch are some clever songs and dialogues.

Beatrice Brothers are fine violinists and render evenly balanced portions of classical and jazz music. They are assisted by Jack Gold, who possesses a very good voice and the trio present some splendid selections.

Manager Clark announces a well balanced and technically high class bill for Sunday and from all advance reports, will be one of the best programs offered by the Faurot Opera House.

"The Forgotten Law," Offering at the Quilna

MOTHER love is exemplified in "The Forgotten Law," which is the Quilna's attraction today and for the remainder of the week. It is an adaptation from the famous story, "A Modern Madonna" by Carolyn Abbott Stanley. It involves two brothers, the charming wife of one and another woman, which makes an unusual domestic triangle, producing a gripping appeal.

Because of domestic disagreements the husband makes a will, bequeathing their child to his brother. He is killed and the brother thinking it the act of his sister-in-law takes the child and becomes very much attached to it. The judge, an old friend of the family, pleads in favor of the mother for the return of her child but until he proves that the husband was a cad, the brother stands firm in his belief. He realizes his wrong and returns the child. While so doing he learns the real murderer. The ending is a surprise on what I won't tell you.

The thread of mystery that runs thru the story will interest you to the very end. There is an excellent cast, consisting of Milton Sills, Cleo Ridgely and Jack Mulhall.

Quilna News and Pathe precede the production.

"Dilly Down Daffy" Is Hit at Orpheum

BILL HOUSE selected an appropriate title when he named his show "Dilly Down Daffy," the present offering of the Midway Theatre company at the New Orpheum theatre this week. The plot concerns the race horse that Bill House, the 300-pound jockey, is slated to ride. (No wonder Dilly was daffy). He enacts the role of Harrington who is mistaken for a noted jockey by the same name. In order to win the girl he loves, he agrees to make good and ride Dilly Down Daffy and altho he encounters many ups and downs, he does make good.

Bill House is a comedian who really comedies and is greeted with a volley of applause upon every appearance. The numbers are good and are encored repeatedly.

The scenery and costumes are above the average, one scene showing a boat in motion is especially beautiful. In fact every thing that goes to make a really entertaining regular scale of prices remaining in effect.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Column of Anecdotes About Home Folks

What is the funniest experience that ever happened to you? Write it out briefly and send it to the Short Shavings Editor of The Lima News. For the best contributed Short Shavings published in the week The News will pay $1. Full names and address must be signed.

Esther Bichenlaub, 1219 E. Kibby-st., writes: "Shortly after my uncle bought his new Ford, he made up his mind to try it out by himself. While driving, he gave it more gas and losing control of the car, drove into a farmer's field, tearing down the fence. The farmer rushed out and in great anger asked, 'Why didn't you drive thru the gate instead of the fence?' 'Why didn't you have the gate up here instead of down there?' replied my uncle."

Miss S. B. Fetter, Lima, R. D. 2, tells the following: "One day a neighbor left her daughter five years old at home while she ran down to a nearby store to get some potatoes, so she could start dinner. While she was gone, little Grace went to the telephone and listened in on the wire. There were two women talking and one said to the other one, 'When you called I was just putting my potatoes on to cook and haven't peppered them yet.'"

Little Grace said, "Did you say my mamma has got her potatoes on? She has not, she just went down to the store to get them on the hill; because, my papa lost all his money, I guess, playing cards last night."

"Edward was busy shelling popcorn, both smooth and rice corn," writes Mrs. Charles Love, 315 Winchester-st., Decatur, Ind. "When shelling the rice corn, it stuck his little fingers and he said: 'Mother, God made this corn upside down. He forgot to put the stickers in the cob.'"

Mrs. Calvin Osborne, 113 1-2 E. North-st., tells this: "My brother resided in Warren, Ohio, and occasionally his son's family from Cleveland would come to visit them. Upon one visit, my brother bought some balloons for his granddaughter, Helen. She wanted to know where they came from and he told her that they grew in little pigs. They came the next summer to visit her on the farm and we had a lot of little pigs running in the fields. Helen cried, 'Oh! Auntie, what are those?' I told her they were little pigs. She screamed for her grandpa, 'Come quick, here are the little pigs that have the balloons for sale!'"

Melba McDonald, Quincy, Ohio, relates this one: "Harry George Jr., four years old, asked his mother when the children would return from school. She said they were returning then and would not go back any more to day. When Harry George awoke the next morning he asked if it was today? 'Yes,' replied the mother. 'Oh, goody,' he replied, 'then the kids won't have to go back to school!'"

Mrs. P. Fritz, McClure, tells of an incident while her seven year old granddaughter was visiting at her home. She had bought a new separator and as the child was watching it operate she said, 'Well, grandma we don't need to skin our milk anymore. We can grind it, can't we?'"

Mrs. C. M. Long, 611 S. Pine-st., tells the following: "When we resided in Albany, Indiana, our neighbor had a little girl who would never sit at the table and eat a regular meal, but was always nibbling some candy, a cookie or something that wasn't nourishing. One day her mother said, 'Dear, I wish you would eat something that will stick to your ribs.' So the little girl sat and studied for a while and finally she said, 'Well, give me some molasses then.'"

Linus Harm, 740 E. Kibby-st., submits the following: "One day my aunt sent her husband to pay the electric light, gas and telephone bills. He got in a card game and when he came home, she said, 'Did you pay the bills?' He answered, 'No, I didn't think I had them in my pocket.'"

THE BEAUTY OF HEALTH

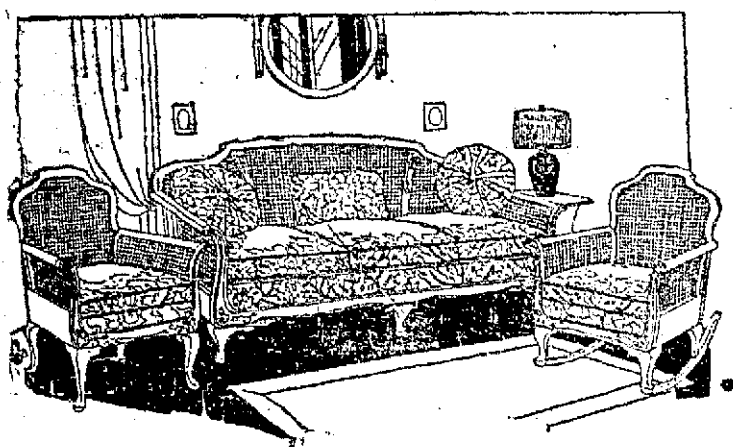

Newspapers and magazines are devoting columns to magic for over-night beautifiers. There is a beauty in health that is far more attractive to men than more regularity of features or a made-up complexion. Health should be the essential of women who want to win and hold admiration, respect and love. At the first indication of ill health as indicated by dark circles under the eyes, a sallow complexion, headache, backache, pain in the side, nervousness, irritability and melancholia, women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the standard remedy for women's ills, which has been proven to help 98 out of every 100 women who try it.—Adv.
